

Report U. S. Ships Assigned Patrol in Viet Nam Waters

Seek to Prevent Red Soldiers From Slipping Into Country From North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam—Five American minesweepers have been assigned to regular patrol of the coastal waters of Viet Nam to prevent red soldiers and supplies from slipping into South Viet Nam from the communist north, this reporter learned today.

This amounts to a direct American commitment to engage in a shooting action with the communists if they attempt to run the U.S.-imposed blockade.

The risk is considered slight, however, since — so far as is known — communist North Viet Nam has no navy worth mentioning.

Sea Patrol

At the same time this sea patrol differs from other U.S. military aid to South Viet Nam in that the minesweepers are an integrated combat unit. They have orders to fire on the communists if they enter Vietnamese waters south of the 17th parallel, which divides this country into communist and anti-communist halves.

Other Americans are here in an "advisory" capacity, although U.S.-manned helicopter units are transporting South Vietnamese troops.

The minesweepers, which belong to the U.S. 7th fleet, are based at Tourane, a former French naval base on the east coast of South Viet Nam about 7 miles south of the 17th Parallel.

One Month Ago

The patrol was started about one month ago. An equal number of Vietnamese-manned patrol craft supplied by the United States are on similar duty.

The blockade represents a general tightening up on the flow of men and material coming into

President Orders Probe of U.S. Strategic Stockpiles

Official Says Program in 'Horrible Mess'

Inventories Exceed Emergency Needs By $3.4 Billion

WASHINGTON—A high official of the office of emergency planning said today the $7.7 billion, super-secret program to stockpile strategic materials is in a "horrible mess."

The official, who asked not to be identified, made the observation after President Kennedy called for an immediate investigation of the stockpiling program—which is designed to set aside materials in case of war.

The president said stockpile inventories today exceed present emergency needs by $3.4 billion.

In some cases, he said, the government has acquired more than seven times the amount of materials—mostly metals—than could "possibly be used."

Official Review

The stockpile program falls under the management of the Office of Emergency Planning (OEP), a remnant of the old Eisenhower administration civil defense organization.

It is headed by Frank B. Ellis. The OEP official said a "review" of the program, asked by President Kennedy, was begun soon after Ellis took over the job from Leo Hoegh, an Eisenhower appointee who served from 1958 to 1961.

Hoegh is a former Republican governor of Iowa.

Last year the Kennedy administration split Hoegh's old domain—assigning civil defense functions to the defense department, but retaining Ellis to handle emergency planning as part of the president's executive office staff.

No Wording

President Kennedy said "excessive storage of costly materials."

Uninjured Members of Wallenda Troupe Go Through With Act

DETROIT (AP)—Their faces grimly expressionless, Herman and Gunther Wallenda last night walked the high wire from which two members of the great Wallendas troupe had fallen to death only 24 hours earlier.

There wasn't a sound in the huge state fair coliseum as the 60-year-old Herman and his son, Gunther, 34, paid their tribute to the show business tradition that the show must go on.

With a substitute aerialist flown in to fill the gap left by death and injury, the two Wallendas performed feats of daring for five minutes three stories above the concrete floor.

As on the previous night, there was no net between the Wallendas and the concrete. Herman and Gunther were the only ones of the seven Wallendas on the wire the night before who were not killed or injured.

Claims Supply So Excessive It Invites Profiteering and Much Mismanagement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has announced a double-edged investigation of how the country stockpiles strategic materials. He says the supply is so excessive it invites profiteering and mismanagement.

"The cold facts on this matter must be open to the public," Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

He said the stockpiling program would be "completely explored" by a Senate subcommittee under Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo. He promised Symington all the evidence his administration has ob-

Moreover, he said he would form a special commission to study policies and goals "in the light of changed defense strategy and improved technology." He disclosed he has ordered a stop to all purchases except for three unidentified items and has instructed department heads to review their needs.

Kennedy's move to eliminate the threat of major criticism from the massive program to store essential materials for national emergencies highlighted this third news conference in 16 days—a pace unequalled since his first weeks in office.

No Progress

Kennedy said no significant progress has been made in U.S. efforts to settle the Berlin dispute with the Soviet Union but supported the forthcoming trip of his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, to the Soviet Union.

"We hope that as communications improve," he said, "that problems which cause tension and danger to the world will lessen."

As for the strategic stockpile.

Charge Pilot With Spying Over Italy

BARL, Italy (AP)—Italy tonight formally charged Bulgarian air force Lt. Milose Solakov with political and military espionage.

An investigating judge in this southeastern city issued an arrest warrant against the 22-year-old flier, who crash landed Jan. 20 after flying his camera-equipped MIG-17 jet twice over a secret North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) missile base.

Two Carabinieri (national police) officers read the formal charge to Solakov in the infirmary of Barl's civil jail. He has been recovering there from his crash injuries, concussion, and fractures of the left arm and collarbone.

He had tried to give the impression that he was a defector but his government contended he landed in Italy after becoming lost in bad weather while on a training flight over Bulgaria.

Trial for espionage under Italian law must be before a civil court, where the maximum penalty on conviction is 15 years imprisonment.

MOSCOW (AP)—Usually well-informed sources said today that V. M. Molotov, publicly denounced former foreign minister, is in a hospital suffering from a heart attack.

A Foreign Office press spokesman declined to confirm or deny the report, saying it was of "no political importance."

He said he knew nothing of the case. The report from the usually well-informed source said Molotov had been in the hospital for about 10 days but that his condition was "not dangerous."

His wife, Paulina, visits him regularly, the informant said.

Molotov returned Nov. 12 from Vienna, Austria, where he had been representative on the International Atomic Energy Agency and has not been seen publicly since.

Kennedy Asks for Welfare Spending

Wants $193 Million Expansion to Shift Emphasis From Relief Checks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called today for a $193-million expansion of permanent federal welfare outlays, with a shift in emphasis from doing out "relief checks" to the rebuilding of wrecked lives and careers.

The remedies "will not come cheaply but in the long run they will save money," Kennedy said in a special message to Congress.

He urged permanent extension of the one-year program to aid dependent children of the jobless, more spending on rehabilitation work, increased grants for child welfare, added funds for the day care of children of working mothers and removal or reduction of residence requirements for relief.

Local Effects

The President slapped at drastic local efforts to slash relief rolls, without directly naming the instance which has stirred national controversy, that of Newburgh, N.Y.

The message said: "Communities which have—for whatever motives—attempted to save money through ruthless and arbitrary cutbacks in their welfare rolls have found their efforts to little avail. The root problem remained."

By contrast, Kennedy said, communities which have "tried the rehabilitative road" for relief clients have fared better: "Families have been restored to self-reliance, and relief rolls have been reduced."

This approach can be furthered, he said, if Congress will enact broad revisions of the rules under which the Department of Health

New Pressure In Argentina Military Seeks to Force Change in Attitude on Cuba

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi was reported under pressure from the country's military chiefs today to break diplomatic relations with Cuba and fire his foreign minister because of the Argentine stand at the Punta del Este conference.

Informed sources said leaders of the three armed forces served a virtual ultimatum on Frondizi in anger at the government's refusal to vote at the inter-American foreign ministers conference for the immediate expulsion of Fidel Castro's communist regime from the organization of American states.

There was no indication, however, what the military would do if Frondizi refused its demand.

Rowing to the military — a powerful force in Argentine politics — would amount to repudiation of the government's refusal to go along with the United States and 13 other Latin American countries. Foreign Minister Miguel Angel Carrasco at the conference sided with Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Ecuador and Bolivia in advocating delay in the expulsion.

Reports circulated here that Carrasco had already sent his resignation from Punta del Este but

'Some Good in Everyone'

Mobsters Turn 'Heroes for Day,' Save 6 Children in Blazing Home

NEW YORK (AP)—Here's one police sentence seven members of Brooklyn's Gallo gang swelled with pride at hearing: "It just shows that there is some good in everyone."

And this from none other than Asst. Chief Inspector Raymond Martin, after the gang members dashed through smoke and flame yesterday to rescue six children from a burning third-floor apartment.

Lead Little Children

Strutting toward their headquarters on President Street, the men saw smoke pouring out of the apartment window and immediately went into action. In the burning four-room flat they found 5-year-old Evelyn Diaz with her hair afire. One of the mob stripped off his jacket and smothered the flames.

Then they led or carried to safety the other children—

Frank, 6; Mercedes, 4; Yolanda, 3; Emilio, 2; and Juan, 10 months old.

Heroes all were Larry Gallo, 31, leader pro tem; a brother, Albert (The Blast) Gallo, 32; Frank Milano, 34; Anthony Abatemarco, 30; Alfonso Serantonio, 22; Leonard Delio, 37; and John Commarato, 37.

Mrs. Sista Diaz, mother of the children, who had left them alone to go shopping, cried in tearful gratitude.

"They saved the lives of my children! They are wonderful boys! God bless them!"

Speaking for his cohorts, Albert Gallo said: "We only done what any red-blooded American boys would do," adding:

"We'll probably get locked up for putting out a fire without a license."

Not so, said Battalion Fire Chief Alexander Steer. "They did a good job," he said, "a very good job."

And that wasn't all the Brooklyn boys did. They pooled their cash and bought clothes for the kids. They canvassed the neighborhood and took up a collection for the mother, and they arranged for the family to be housed in the area.

'Just Heroes'

Larry Gallo swallowed no much smoke he was given medical treatment. His companions were singed but safe.

The Gallo mob has been under police surveillance recently because of mysterious shootings and feuds with rivals involving coin machine and other rackets.

In rebuttal, Albert Gallo removed his hat for newsmen and asked, "Do you see any horns there?" And for good measure he added: "We're just business boys trying to get along."

Kennedy 'Holds Open' the Chance of Visiting Russia

Significant Breakthroughs Must Come First in U. S.-Red Relations

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today held open the possibility of a visit to the Soviet Union if he can make "significant breakthroughs" in his developing drive to improve U.S.-Soviet relations.

A visit under present conditions of cold war tension probably would not be considered useful by either Washington or Moscow, he believes, but "we are making every effort we can to bring an easing of tensions."

The President discussed U.S.-Soviet relations with newsmen Wednesday in a conference attended by Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia and son-in-law of Premier Khrushchev.

Kennedy expressed "satisfaction" that the series of meetings with Foreign make-

Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to day. This will be the third meeting in a series described by Kennedy as "so-called probes with regard to the matter of Berlin."

Easing Tensions

Asked under what conditions he would accept an invitation to visit the Soviet Union, Kennedy replied: "I would think that an invitation and acceptance of an invitation would probably wait on an easing of the tensions which unfortunately surround our relationships. So at present, of course, until we have significant breakthroughs, that sort of journey would probably not be considered useful by either country."

"But we, of course, are always hopeful and we are making every effort that we can to bring an easing of tensions, and that is why Mr. Thompson is pursuing his course, and that is why we are making other efforts that we can to bring an easing of tensions, and that is why Mr. Thompson is pursuing his course, and that is why we are making other efforts that we can to bring an easing of tensions, and that is why Mr. Thompson is pursuing his course, and that is why we are making other efforts that we can to bring an easing of tensions, and that is why Mr. Thompson is pursuing his course, and that is why we are making other efforts that we

Economic Aid to Spain Will Cease

Sale of Surplus Commodities, Military Assistance, Other Plans Not Affected by Move

MADRID — American grants to Spain under the Economic Assistance Program is to cease. The Spanish government is being informed of this decision.

However, economic aid in the form of loans on easy terms and the sale of surplus agricultural commodities payable in Spanish currency will continue. So will food relief programs. The military assistance program is unaffected.

With Spain's gold and foreign exchange reserves at a record high of $860 million, compared to nearly nothing in mid 1959, it has been evident for some time that Spain no longer needs aid in the form of handouts.

Received Aid
In 10 years Spain has received an estimated $1,125,000,000 in economic aid from the United States. Of this $380 million or 34 percent has consisted of grant aid. In addition, Spain has received from the United States gift multibillion dollars.

Exclusive by Chicago Daily News Service
Military hardware and other military assistance valued at $442,644,000. American aid kept the tottering Spanish economy of the 1950s from foundering. Availability of desperately needed raw materials to keep factories going and unemployment down pulled the country safely through a rough period and set it on the road to economic development and well being.

The upturn came in 1959 when devaluation of the peseta to its true value combined with a growing tourist influx to earn Spain

Four Die in Michigan Fire

Father, 3 Children Killed as Flames Strike Their Home

NEW BOSTON, Mich. (AP) — A father and three of his four children were killed today in a flash fire which destroyed their rural Wayne County home.

Charles Nutt, 37, his two sons, Charles Jr., 12 and William, 7, and a daughter, Bonnie, 10, died in the flames. Nutt's wife, Phyllis, 35, and another daughter, Debra, 4, escaped by jumping through a window.

Mrs. Nutt was taken to Wayne County General Hospital for treatment of extensive cuts suffered when she plunged through the window with Denise in her arms. The child required only first aid for minor cuts.

House Flaming
Mrs. Nutt told Wayne County sheriff's deputies she awoke and found the single story frame house in flames. She said she grabbed one child and jumped through the window.

The woman had to walk a quarter mile to the home of her neighbor Ralph Sturgis, to summon help.

Sturgis telephoned authorities and rushed to the Nutt house. He managed to drag the father from the flaming wreck, but Nutt died minutes later. Firemen later found the bodies of the three children in the ashes.

Sheriff's deputies said the fire apparently was touched off by a defective heating apparatus.

Believes Rule May Sacrifice Skilled Help

Forced Retirement Causes Loss of Many Able Workers

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The manager of the Wisconsin state and local employee pension system believes the existing retirement rules for Wisconsin civil servants may be too arbitrary and are sacrificing useful and productive skills.

F. N. MacMillin, executive director of the Wisconsin Retirement Fund which now covers 50,000 state and local government workers, made his comment to the new Governor's Commission on the Aging at its first session here. He spoke after Gov. Nelson observed that government has an obligation to expand the employment opportunities of older people. MacMillin said that idea has been keynoted by others including the big White House Conference on the Aging which reported a year ago.

Beyond Age of 65
Present Wisconsin law permits Wisconsin civil servants to work beyond the age of 65 at the option of employing officers if they are qualified for such service, MacMillin said.

But in practice most state and local public service agencies have an arbitrary rule of retirement at 65 because it is simpler to administer, he reported, adding that such a rule is "unfortunate" in many instances.

MacMillin noted that some employing officials are reluctant to permit persons over 65 to stay in their jobs because they may invite allegations of favoritism or discrimination.

Good Look
But it is the job of the administrator to run his service most economically and efficiently, he reminded. Any promotion or pay raise is also subject to the charge of discrimination, he said.

He asked the new Commission "to take a good look" at the retirement practices in Wisconsin governmental administration.

40 High School Seniors Win Awards in Annual Science Talent Search

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty high school seniors in 12 states were named national winners today in the 21st annual Science Talent Search. Among them was Ann M. Feiker, 17, of Columbus High School, Marshfield, Wis.

The 10 girls and 30 boys have been awarded all expense trips to Washington where they will compete for $34,250 in scholarships and awards during a Science Talent Institute program March 1-5.

The Science Talent Search is conducted by Science Service through its Science Clubs of America and is financed by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation which is supported by the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

The 40 winners were chosen from a field of 23,768 students on the basis of a comprehensive science aptitude test, ratings by teachers, scholastic records and reports on their individual science projects.

Lord Snowdon Starts Job On Paper

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret's husband grabbed his briefcase and went to work today just like any other commuter — except that he traveled by Rolls Royce and arrived eight minutes early.

A squad of news cameramen awaited Lord Snowdon, formerly society photographer Tony Armstrong-Jones, as he drove up for his first day's work as artistic adviser to the London Sunday Times.

But Tony didn't seem too keen to see them. He zipped out of the Rolls and was inside the building in three seconds.

Tony, 31, looked the perfect young executive in dark overcoat over a gray charcoal suit. Only the black bowler hat was missing from the usual Englishman's business getup.

Met By Owner
He was accompanied to the Times office by his chauffeur and a personal detective. Roy Thomson, Canadian owner of the Times and a string of other news papers and television stations, waited inside to welcome him aboard.

His main task is to advise the Thomson organization on production of a color supplement — something revolutionary in Britain — which the Times starts publishing Sunday.

But it will give him an occasional opportunity to get out his cameras and make his own picture features just as he did before he married the princess.

He'll get a salary, but the figure hasn't been disclosed. It has been estimated, however, at between 7,500 and 10,000 pounds ($21,000 and $28,000) a year.

Sick Animals to Get $4 Million Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Oh to hold the dog biscuit and catnip concession in the new $4 million medical center opening officially today.

An odd wish? Not really, since the center happens to be for the exclusive use of small animals and is described by its founders as the first such institution of its type in the country.

Medical Row
The center is in a new eight-story building in the middle of a pretty high-class medical section — sort of a medical row.

Situated at East River Drive and East 62nd St., the center is only a stone's throw from such famous hospital and research institutions as New York Hospital, the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Institute and Rockefeller Institute.

Hardly had the doors to the center been opened unofficially

Jan. 22 when the ailing and the lame began to crawl in on all fours.

Reclining on a bed in the "recovery room" was a Russian wolfhound puppy whose skull was pierced by the teeth of a larger dog. The pup underwent surgery and was reported coming along fine.

Lump Along
Several other dog and cat patients were limping around the corridors with splints on their broken legs. They too, were reported on the mend.

Lewis S. Greenleaf, center president, said the institution will operate along the lines of a private, non-profit hospital in common use for humans for decades.

Like their human counterparts, the animals will be given reduced rates or even free treatment if their masters are unable to foot the bill.

Terrorist Captured In French Crackdown

Documents Found Indicate Secret Army Had Planned to Blow Up Eiffel Tower Antennas

BY PAUL CHALI
Chicago Daily News Service
PARIS — President Charles de Gaulle's crackdown on French rightists has reaped its first marked success with the arrest yesterday of the notorious murderer, Philippe Castille.

Castille was arrested by plainclothesmen in a small bar called the Pam Pam opposite the Paris opera house and just 50 yards from the Chicago Daily News office.

Police disclosed today that documents found in 11 suitcases piled in Castille's hotel room indicated the Secret Army Organization planned a whole wave of new plastic bombings.

Most spectacular of these, police said, was to be the blowing up of the Eiffel Tower television and radio antennas next Monday, the day De Gaulle is scheduled to broadcast a speech on Algeria.

Had Credentials
Castille, who headed the Secret Army Organization here, carried day that next month De Gaulle credentials signed by Gen. Raoul Salan, its commander. Ironically, article 16 of the French constitution which gives him the right to legislate without consulting Parliament in the case of a grave national emergency. Article 16 would give De Gaulle a free hand and Algeria during the crucial period of signing a treaty with the Algerian Nationalists and to enforce the first steps of the freedom plan.

French officials are hoping no more difficulties will arise before conclusion of a French Algerian rebel treaty, which is now expected to be signed during the second half of February.

Castille was jailed in Algiers but was freed during the confusion which followed the first rightist uprising there on Jan. 24, 1960.

In France
Since then French police had lost his tracks but now it appears that Castille had joined the little group of French plotters headed by Pierre LaGallarde and Josef Does Fury of Far Right Aid Communism in Hurting U.S.?

Principle of Inversion Undermines People's Confidence in Leaders

BY ERLMAN MOORE
AP Special Correspondent

One error, reverse - English aspect of the climate created in the United States by the rise of the rightist movement hovers many Americans.

They fear that the superpatriot, far from hurting the Communists, may in fact be helping them by his tactics.

Writing of the John Birch Society, Thomas M. Burke, publisher of the Santa Barbara, Calif., News-Press, noted: "It is worth pondering the possibility that the organization, unwittingly, is following a Communist-inspired line to destroy Americans' faith in their most respected leaders and institutions."

The daily Palo Alto, Calif., Times said in an editorial: "The extremists in their fear of com-

Goal of Conservative Coalition Is Capturing Both Political Parties

Oklahoma Session Doesn't Draw All Leaders, but Makes Plans

BY JOSEPH HAAS
Chicago Daily News Service

TULSA, Okla. — Here's an advance look at the right-wing plan for a "conservative coalition" to make its weight felt at the polls.

The Rev. Billy James Hargis, founder-director of the Christian Crusade here, outlined the program in an exclusive interview with the Chicago Daily News. And he left no doubts of the purpose of the proposed coalition.

"We are not trying to capture one political party or to create another," he said. "We're trying to capture both political parties, if possible."

He plans to make full details of the plan public later this week at the close of a national anti-Communist training school here.

Coalition Goal

The goal of the coalition, he said, will be to help conservative legislation and candidates.

"We only need five seats in the House of Representatives to get a conservative majority," he said.

In the Senate, he estimated, one-third of the senators followed the conservative line. And what of the White House?

The Rev. Mr. Hargis admitted this was a conservative goal and added that Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) was the man for the job of president.

"I think if Goldwater gets the nomination in 1964, he could be elected president. That is, if the nation's conservatives put out the necessary effort."

"He Could Do It"

"He's the only one on the conservative scene now who could do it."

The husky Disciples of Christ minister — a six footer weighing 270 pounds — was interviewed between sessions at the National Anti-Communist Leadership Training School here.

The Rev. Mr. Hargis described the five-day meeting in the Mayo Hotel in downtown Tulsa as the on how to rally support for conservative legislation and candidates.

For every "professional liberal" or conservative, he explained, "there are 100 persons who are neither."

"That's who we've got to reach. That third group. The uncommitted voters."

"I think they're conservative and will vote that way when they know what conservatism stands for."

Ringed Doorbells

"And the man who beats the sidewalk and rings the doorbells will get their support."

The Rev. Mr. Hargis founded his crusade 14 years ago when he was the pastor of the First Christian Church in Sallisaw, Okla.

His interest in anti-Communism began then, he said, when he discovered a Communist was a paid writer for a Disciples of Christ Sunday school publication.

"I went to the president of our church's state convention and asked him about it. He said, 'So what, some of my best friends are Communists.'"

No Lack of Vision

"I may have lacked a lot of other things, but I never lacked vision," he said. "I saw a need for people to learn of the Communist conspiracy internally."

Although he only had 1 1/2 years of college at Ozark Bible College, Bentonville, Ark., the Disciples of Christ permit a sort of "on-the-job training" for the ministry in assistant pastorates.

"That's my only formal education," he said.

The degrees listed for him in a Crusade biography are honororary, he explained. They are from Defender Seminary, Puerto Rico; Bob Jones University, Greenville, S.C.; and Pikes Peak Seminary, a Colorado correspondence school.

Literature Circulated

"We circulated millions of pieces of literature," he said. "Probably 500,000 pieces a month, including our magazine and news letter."

The Rev. Mr. Hargis said the crusade was a $100,000-a-year operation receiving its income from contributions, $500,000 speaking tour fees, $145,000 and sale of merchandise.

"We circulated millions of pieces of literature," he said. "Probably 500,000 pieces a month, including our magazine and news letter."

Patronic Feeling

The conservatives too often see a flag go by get a patriotic feeling and write a letter. And they don't even know each other.

"Unfortunately, there has been some distrust among them. When you get trained in the Communist conspiracy, you tend to get cautious."

"On the other hand, the liberals have been consistent — always wrong," he said chuckling. "but consistent."

$240 Million to be Paid Holders of GI Insurance Policies

OSHKOSH — Approximately $240 million will be distributed to more than 47 million GI insurance policyholders in the 1962 annual dividends. Albert Osmus, county service officer reported.

Dividends will be paid on the anniversary date of the policy this year, as is the usual custom. Last year the Veterans Administration sped up the dividend payments in an effort to aid the national economy at the request of President Kennedy.

Approximately $225 million will be divided among 45 million World War II veterans while about 228,000 World War I veterans will receive approximately $16 million in dividends. Dividends will average $50 for World War II veterans and $70 for veterans of World War I.

The annual dividends are primarily a return to policyholders of the premiums they have paid since the death rate of veterans continues to be less than estimated in the mortality tables upon which the premiums were set.

Kiska Island Volcano Reported to be Active

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — An active volcano was reported twice the past week on Kiska Island, 1,250 miles southwest of here near the end of the Aleutian Islands chain.

Both reports came from fliers. One said the eruption apparently was near sea level at Sirus Point, with flames spouting 300 feet into the air and lava running into the sea.

A Northwest Airlines plane flew over the area on its Tokyo-Anchorage route early Tuesday but its crew reported nothing unusual. It was dark at the time.

LaCrosse to Receive Redevelopment Aid

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin State Employment Service said Wednesday La Crosse County has been designated for assistance under area redevelopment act as a region of persistent unemployment.

The county will be able to qualify for help in getting federal loans for industrial and commercial projects, technical help and grants for public works. Twenty other Wisconsin counties earlier received classification for aid.

Austria and NATO

One of the current problems facing members of the European Economic Community, better known as the Common Market, is whether to admit associate members who then will reap economic benefits of membership without accepting the political responsibilities. Switzerland, Sweden and Austria have requested such a status since their constitutions prohibit any but neutral ties in the present cold war lineups.

Belgium's foreign minister, Paul-Henri Spaak, perhaps the most inspiring and tenacious leader in all post-war European unity movements, has warned against any such watering down on membership requirements. Nations acquiring the protections and benefits of unity must give up some sovereignty, he insists.

"I am against the veto power in the United Nations. I am against the rule of unanimity in NATO. I cannot conceive of a normally, efficiently functioning Europe unless all parties accept the rule of the majority. I have said, and I repeat endlessly, that international organizations will function really well only when democratic rule is accepted, when the decisions taken by a majority are obeyed by all. It is certainly possible that this majority might be a qualified or weighted one, but the principle must be accepted."

Since the Common Market offers to members tremendous economic advantages and definitely discriminates against non-members in trade agreements, nations which have a large percentage of imports and exports with the members are sure to suffer. Austria, for instance imported 59 percent of its total from Common Market areas in the first half of 1961 while the same nations received about 51 percent of its exports. Any more stringent quotas and tariffs will seriously impair Austria's economic health and force it to turn more toward the Soviet Union and Eastern European nations.

Austria's Parliament voted unanimously to try for associate membership in the Common Market and has insisted to Russia that such membership will not infringe upon its neutrality. But the Treaty of Rome, which set up the Common Market, includes political obligations which would have to be waived if associate members were permitted to join for purely economic reasons. It does not seem fair that the full members of the Common Market must take the political risks in order to achieve economic unity if all members do not.

The Russians left Austria only upon the assurance of that nation's neutrality. If Austria changes its constitution to permit it to accept the political responsibilities of the European Economic Community, Russia could quite rightfully claim that an agreement had been broken and move back into Austria. However, in the light of the continued breaking of treaties by the Soviet Union, most recently over Berlin, Western nations would have good reason to oppose Russian action. The big question is whether Austria would want to risk so seriously offending the Russians.

The present members of the Common Market also must take a realistic view of the problem. If they deny associate membership to Austria, they must be prepared either to see that nation grow closer to the Soviet Union by economic necessity or be prepared to go to its aid militarily in case the Russians threaten to move in.

The problem obviously is not merely economic. The writers of the Treaty of Rome recognized the other ramifications of European unity. But applying them is not a simple matter.

China Starves

Since the governments of Red China and the United States are not enthusiastic about American reporters covering events in China, although for different reasons, information about a reported famine is second hand. But there seems little doubt that it exists. Its effect upon the Red regime also is clouded.

In the spring of 1959, the Peiping government joyously announced that agriculture production in 1958 was up about 180 million tons or an amazing 100 per cent over that of 1957. By late summer, when people were increasingly hungry, the Communist Party Central Committee admitted there had been an "erroneous estimation" of production but the increase still was some 60 per cent. As news of two severe droughts and at least one serious epidemic filtered through the censorship, outside estimates indicated that both the 1958 and 1959 crops were considerably under the hopes of Red officials.

Beyond the refusal of nature to cooperate, there apparently have been some go-slow movements on the part of China's peasants. According to an article in the Atlantic this has gone so far as to include the killing of half the baby pigs born in some regions. Whether people on the edge of starvation would so contribute to their misery is difficult to ascertain. However, the Communist Party in China has seemed to change its action, if not its ideology, on agriculture systems. Reportedly it has modified its severe communes along the lines of the Soviet collective farms.

China's national income closely follows its agricultural output. Half of China's industry depends upon agricultural produce and 70 per cent of its exports are farm products. Last year China bought some six million tons of grain, mostly from Canada, to help make up for the poor seasons of crop production. But this year it is not supposed to have the money for such purchases. Outside observers say that millions of Chinese will be on near starvation diets this year, a fact which also lowers their productive ability in other fields.

But there seems to be little reason for believing that Communism is near disaster in China. The Chinese peasant has lived next door to famine for centuries. The Chinese occasionally have arisen in furious riots of a short span; but revolt, unless well led, does not seem to be in the Chinese nature.

Securities Business Is Helped

Reports on the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) investigation of the securities business may be regarded by many as unfavorable publicity for that commercial activity. Nevertheless, reports of the commission and the findings of other groups engaged in the investigation of particular exchanges all indicate that conditions are being improved by the investigation and therefore the total result should be favorable to the trade.

The SEC investigation began with the story of the father and son team of specialists, Jerry and Gerard Re, who later were suspended from the exchange and still later arrested in connection with alleged stock manipulations. The SEC investigation now has resulted in the resignations of the chairman of the American Stock Exchange and three other high officers. The chairman, Joseph F. Reilly, has been replaced by Edwin Posner, a former chairman and one of the leaders of the reform movement within the exchange.

The SEC report on this exchange charged that it had been dominated for many years by a small group of officials. It was further claimed that this group had taken no action or had taken only limited action in many instances where apparent violations of the exchange rules had been brought to their attention. The suggestion was that the officers had been in power for so many years and were so closely associated with most of the specialists operating on the exchange that it was difficult for them to maintain discipline and the proper standards of operation.

Since the SEC had widened its inquiry to take in the entire securities business, other groups have been tightening up in their operations. Recently the National Association of Securities Dealers suspended several of its members on the grounds that they had charged excessive prices or "mark-ups" in transactions in over the counter securities. It was interesting to note in the report of these suspensions that many of the improper activities had been known to officials of the NASD for some time. It appeared fair to assume that there was a general tightening up by the association officials just ahead of the SEC investigators.

It is perhaps only natural that governing boards and association officials tend to grow lax in the enforcement of rules as time passes and the general results are favorable. Nevertheless such lax management of trading in securities cannot be tolerated for long. It therefore is a good thing for all concerned that the SEC has undertaken its investigation and is carrying it on regardless of efforts made to tidy up before its investigators get into some of the obvious failures.

Price Supports Causing Surplus of Dairy Products

From The Wall Street Journal

The lady of the house, returning from a food-buying expedition the other day, had a question. How come, she wanted to know, when there was supposed to be such a big surplus of U.S. dairy products, so many nice foreign cheeses were displayed in the neighborhood supermarket?

Well, it's an interesting question, all right. Here is the Federal Government frantically supporting dairy product prices and losing some $900 million in its dairy dealings in 1961, more than three times its 1960 losses. And it's expected to lose about $500 million this year.

With all the milk products in the U.S., a person might think that there certainly wouldn't be much inducement for a t h e r countries to export their dairy products to us. But they do, and their exports are climbing. U.S.

Imports of cheese, for instance, were 70 million pounds in 1961, up six million from the year before.

And why? Because the high U.S. price supports makes it possible for foreign producers to get more for their cheese and other dairy products in this country than at home. This is about as far as you can get from free world trade. But it does explain why the neighborhood supermarket has so many nice foreign cheeses next to the nice U.S. cheeses.

The lady of the house thinks all this is just a little absurd. And that is about as good a word as any for this kind and general Government price-supporting program.

Food Store Closings, Appleton's Parking Arrangements Praised

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I think the Food Stores who announced last week that they will be closed on Sundays, beginning Feb. 4, deserve to be applauded. Their decision might have been more commendable if their reason for this action had been a moral decision primarily, rather than an economic one, but the people in your community should be proud of the stand they have taken, and support them with their patronization.

Too often people are inclined to throw rocks rather than roses, so I would like to take this opportunity to express my opinion of the recent "rock throwers" regarding Appleton's parking situation.

I wonder if the women who have been criticizing the Meter Maids and the parking situation in downtown Appleton, realize how inconsiderate they are when they park on College Avenue and feed the meter for hours? The city of Appleton has provided adequate parking lots as detailed on your map in the Sunday Post-Crescent of Jan. 28. Not any of these parking lots are more than a 2-block walk from College Avenue, and they can park for as little as 5 cents for four hours. If shoppers would use these lots when they intend to do any extensive shopping, it would free the College Avenue spaces for anyone who has only a short time available, or a quick errand to do.

Besides, the 2-block walk would do them good, so pin a rose on the Meter Maids!

Mrs. Lyle M. Becker
Burlington, Wisconsin

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Hip-Hip Hooray! Three cheers and hats off to all the merchants who have decided to close their places of business on Sunday. It was a little disappointing, however, to note that the reason most owners gave was that it was not profitable enough to remain open on that day. On the other hand, it was quite encouraging to compare the reason another merchant gave for closing. The management of this local super market found it fitting to run a full page ad (Post-Crescent, Jan. 26, 1962) explaining their reasons for Sunday closing. Among other things, they had this to say, "because we stay open on Sundays, others have found it necessary for competitive reasons to stay open also, which is making Sunday quite commercial and could be the initial kindling of an unwanted materialistic atmosphere. Therefore, aware of our

This should be the reason and attitude of all for closing. Too bad it isn't. Nevertheless, we have an opportunity, now, to give our support to all these merchants. Let's show our approval by patronizing them throughout the week. Let's tell them we are glad they have taken this stand. In this way, we will be expressing our belief and our need to keep Sunday as God meant us to.

Dispatch on Women Prisoners

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Monitor for Jan. 30, 1962.

Washington — This morning (Jan. 31) it was rumored that the female prisoners confined in the Sixteenth Street Prison (the home of Mrs. Greenbow) were to be removed to the Old Capitol Prison, where, in consequence of their rebellious proclivities, quarters have been provided for them.

The first person incarcerated at the prison was Mrs. Rose O. H. Greenbow, as she signs herself. She was arrested on the 11th of August of last year and has been confined in the prison since. Her husband formerly was employed in the State Department. She is a woman of letters, was born in the South, although brought up in Washington. She is now confined in her own house, in one of the upper stories, and has the attendance of a servant besides the company of her own daughter.

Miss Ellie M. Poole, alias Stewart, was arrested and brought to the prison on the 11th of August, 1961. She came from Wheeling, where, after having been confined there for some time, she made her escape by tying the sheets together and letting herself down from the prison window. She has been in communication with the rebel leaders in Kentucky, advising them to make certain changes in their plan of operations.

When arrested the second time, within 10 miles of the enemy's camp in Kentucky, $7,500 furnished by the rebels was found upon her person. She has been a correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer and Baltimore Exchange.

Mrs. Basley, formerly a resident of Baltimore, was arrested on the 23rd of December. She had just come from Richmond and had been in conversation with Jeff Davis. She is a very "explosive" woman and it was from this fact that her arrest took place aboard the boat while approaching Baltimore from Richmond.

Sales Tax Supported By U. W. President

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Educators may be abandoning their long silence on the issue of tax policy which is so inextricably involved in their programs and their professional welfare.

President C. A. Elvehjem of the University of Wisconsin, perhaps to the surprise of the generally liberal campus community he heads here, has given a back-handed pat to the state administration and the legislature for daring to inaugurate the new sales tax program for the relief of the state government financial pinch. Elvehjem chose for his forum an audience of hotel and resort operators who are among those who have become involuntary tax collectors for the state treasury under the new tax laws.

"When you undertake your new duty as tax collectors," he observed, "you will be aiding a noble cause — the effort to provide for the young people of tomorrow the educational advantages they need and deserve."

SCHOOLS DEMAND

The university president, who is perhaps the key man in the administration of publicly supported higher education in Wisconsin spoke aptly. For the price of the school system, groaning under its expansion demands, is primarily involved in the search for means of broadening the public revenue system.

Without the relentless pressure of the birth rate upon local school budgets and the fantastic growth in enrollments at the universities and colleges, the state would have been able to muddle through this period with the im-

This should be the reason and attitude of all for closing. Too bad it isn't. Nevertheless, we have an opportunity, now, to give our support to all these merchants. Let's show our approval by patronizing them throughout the week. Let's tell them we are glad they have taken this stand. by almost 400 people of the community.

Tugs were sent to rescue a ferry grounded on a sandbar in Lake Michigan off Cudahy.

Julius Bubolz, Appleton, was elected secretary-treasurer of Home Mutual Insurance Co., and Franklin C. Jesse, Appleton, was reelected vice president of the insurance firm.

Among those entertaining for Miss Dorothy Bethurum, professor of English at Lawrence College, before she left for abroad, were Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Bober and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows.

Reuben Maples was elected president of the Chilton Chamber of Commerce, A. C. Jensen, vice president, and John J. Weber, treasurer.

Army engineers raced to reinforce the Mississippi's vast levee system so the expected flood peaks will not force the evacuation of 500,000 people. The army laid plans to move all lowland dwellers within 50 miles of the river between Cairo, Ill., and New Orleans, but the engineers provisionally employed by other legislatures since World War II.

The university and college administrators, and doubtless the perceptive men among the local school superintendents, grasped the facts of fiscal life. But they could not gracefully enter the tax policy argument, as they saw it, without suggesting a selfish interest on the one hand, or a middle-class tendency, on the other. Yet there is reason to believe that they knew a departure in tax policy was inevitable, and that they are relieved that the decision was made, at long last, without the need for their direct intervention. That seemed to be implicit in the university president's remarks to the hotel trade meeting.

These same men on the firing line in a period of heavy pressure for public service expansion also know more than the public yet knows about the prospects for financial difficulties that lie ahead.

A professor friend called the other day, and talked about the almost unbelievable competition among the colleges and universities of the country for qualified senior teachers in some of the specialty fields. One school is offering $35,000 to a man now employed in Wisconsin at less than half that amount. A young man of my acquaintance who is earning $12,000 in the state school system, and regards himself as fortunate, is mulling in mingled astonishment and anxiety an offer for $18,000.

WISH VS. REALITY

Higher education institution faculty members, as individuals, have tended to embrace the "liberal" or anti-sales tax position in public policy in Wisconsin over the years. Prof. Harold Groves of the university is one of the most insistent spokesmen for that viewpoint. He has trained a couple of generations of junior economics and political science teachers.

But during the long political travail of the last year there was scarcely a voice raised on any campus, even among those teachers who are not shy about expressing themselves politically, on the drift toward the sales tax in this state.

Perhaps some of their restraint could be marked down to a reluctance to embarrass Gov. Nelson, a liberal governor who faced a financial crisis. But there is a good chance that some of it was attributable also to their recognition of the harsh reality that governmental budgets have exhausted traditional revenue arrangements, theory and preference notwithstanding.

U. S. Balance of Payments Defined

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Yet, the citizens of the United States, are being warned by your President in every major message and press conference now that among the most urgent problems we face is our "balance of payments" — and you are being told bluntly that unless the deficit in this balance is munitized, the drain on our gold re-serve will become intolerable, the mighty U. S. dollar will go down, our entire economy will totter.

What, you might ask as a normally informed individual, is the "balance of payments"? Why is there a deficit in it? What is the connection between our balance of payments deficit and the President's plea for power to smash our tariff walls and his appeal to business and labor leaders to show restraint on price and wage increase?

You can't even begin to understand the mounting crescendo of all other countries as individuals and as a government in a year.

If we pay out more to other countries than we get from them, we have a deficit in our balance of payments. Then our creditors can either withdraw their share in the form of gold from our reserves or they can build up short-term claims against us in dollars which they can take home on their own currencies.

Build Up Claims

If we get more from other countries than we pay out to them, we have a surplus in our balance against us skyrocketed. We have of payments. Then, we can do the same — withdraw from their gold international accounts for years — and still are.

Why The Deficit?

Why the deficit? It's not because we're importing more goods than we're exporting! On the contrary, last year, we sold $8 billion more abroad than we bought from abroad — a comfortable margin by any yardstick. But trade is only part of the payments picture. We spent billions abroad on our military defenses, billions on loans and grants, American tourists left huge amounts in foreign lands. Payments went out to foreigners who have investments here.

We took in billions of cash too — as an illustration from countries which repaid loans to us and bought military equipment here. But we didn't take in enough to reach a balance between outflow and inflow. Unless we slash the continuing deficit, our dollar won't have the gold cushion behind it to keep it the pivot currency of the globe. The foreign claims against us could shatter our economy.

Police Spending

To help solve the problem, President Eisenhower began and President Kennedy is continuing to police our military-economic way ahead — and so is your country as the faithful trade de-

Also to help solve it Washington is launching the biggest drive ever to expand our earnings from de-ports. That's why Kennedy wants power to slash our tariff walls; a united Europe won't lower its walls against us so we can sell more there unless we lower our walls against Europe. That's why the plea for price-wage restraint; we won't be able to compete if we price ourselves out of the lush markets.

Admittedly simple as this is, it has clarified some of the mystery and interconnections of the balance of payments — you're way ahead — and so is your country as the faithful trade dehe called the present supply enormous beyond necessity. "a questionable burden on public funds and in addition a potential source of excessive and unconscionable profits."

Kennedy said he did not mean to imply the discovery of any wrongdoing at this stage. But he said the cloak of secrecy that was originally applied to conceal shortages from an enemy has now become "an invitation to mismanagement."

Other Subjects

Kennedy had this to say on other subjects:

Latin America—Expressed satisfaction at the "vigorous declaration against Communist penetration of this hemisphere" by foreign ministers of the Organization of American States in Punta del Este, Uruguay.

Sotheast Asia—Voiced "earnest hope" for an end to renewed fighting in Laos otherwise extended negotiations to establish a neutral and independent government "could go up in smoke and fire."

He said the United States has increased its aid to South Vietnam to sustain that country against Communist-backed subterranean war.

Urban Affairs—Disputed Republican charges that he played politics in announcing he would name a Negro housing administrator Robert C. Weaver to head a proposed cabinet level department of urban affairs.

Republicans—With Republicans meeting across the country, Kennedy observed: "I am sure that I don't know who is giving the leadership in this but I am sure that they will have a varied program."

Civil Rights—His administration is doing what he said it would do in the field of civil rights and in the field of legislation the end of literacy tests as a qualification for voting and commenting on other measures—as Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg did in endorsing in principle a fair employment practices bill.

more messages on programs administered by the department—health care for the aged under Social Security and federal aid to education.

The program outlined today would represent the most sweeping overhaul of federal relief techniques since the aid program was started in the depression of the 1930s.

Its recommendations included:

Extending permanently the $400 million a year program for aid to the dependent children of the unemployed. Funded as an emergency recession measure last year, it is due to expire June 30.

Increasing the federal share from one-half to three-fourths the costs of rehabilitation and social services without changing the dollar-for-dollar matching of states' outlays for routine clerical and administrative work. This would cost the Treasury perhaps $40 million.

Federal Grants

Boosting the $20 million ceiling on federal grants for child welfare services to $30 million in fiscal 1963 and then gradually to $50 million by 1969.

earmarking $5 million next year and $10 million a year thereafter for aid in starting local programs of day care for the children of working mothers.

the south in Hanoi's continuing effort to win all Viet Nam.

It is believed most communist military cadres and arms enter South Viet Nam by land through communist-controlled Laos over what has become popularly known as the "Ho Chi Minh trail."

Small Boats

However, the communists have also made use of motorized small boats which can dodge in and out of hidden waterways along Viet Nam's long curving coast. Some of these communist craft have been intercepted.

Up to now, however, there has been no systematic blockade of sea supplies. The U. S. Navy is also supplying the Vietnamese with undisclosed numbers of small craft to patrol Viet Nam's countless inland waterways.

East German Rate of Building Below West

RONN — Communist East Germany, dedicated according to its leaders to the welfare of the "workers and peasants," is building new homes at only about half the rate of West Germany.

Last year saw a survey by the German Industrial Institute in Cologne, the East Germans constructed some 90,000 dwellings, a rate of about 53 for each 1,000 inhabitants of the Communist controlled region.

The total was 4 per cent below the planned figure.

West Germany's relatively free economy, by contrast, produced some 550,000 dwellings in 1961 at a rate of 170 for each 1,000 inhabitants.

is a potential source of excessive and unconscionable profits—but added under questioning that he did not mean to imply any wrongdoing by any individual.

But he said a thorough investigation is warranted. It is to be headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., chairman of the Senate stockpiling subcommittee.

It's news fell like a thunder bolt on the stockpiling committee which has no full time staff members.

"Nor does it have any investigations. Nor has it made any investigation."

'News To Me'

It's one part time staff member William H. Darden, said the investigation was news to me.

However, Sen. Symington has been interested in the stockpile situation and only Tuesday noted on the senate floor that present material stockpiles are worth many billions of dollars more than the stockpiles of agricultural products.

Symington suggested that agricultural products would probably be more important to the country in case of war than any surplus of metals and minerals.

The stockpiling program began shortly after World War II under and secrecy.

Earl Warren Jr. Joins Democrats

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Earl Warren Jr., son of the chief justice of the United States, has switched his political registration from Republican to Democrat because, "I just think the Republican party is drifting away from dad's brand of republicanism."

Warren made the change Wednesday, his 32nd birthday. He said he also timed it so he can work for the re-election of Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other Democrats in the coming election. He is a Sacramento attorney.

Earl Warren Sr. was Republican governor of California three terms and was Republican nominee for vice president in 1948.

Hearing Date Set On Petition for Reapportionment

MADISON, Wis. — The State Supreme Court today set a Tuesday hearing date on Atty. Gen. John Reynolds' petition that it take original jurisdiction of a suit to force reapportionment of Wisconsin's political districts.

Reynolds initiated the proceeding Wednesday after he was informed that Secretary of State Robert Zimmerman would issue a call for 1962 elections despite the Legislature's failure to realign Senate Assembly and Congressional districts on the basis of 1960 census figures. Reynolds is a Democrat. Zimmerman a Republican.

Reynolds told a news conference today that if the Supreme Court decides to take the suit—a procedure that would save time consuming arguments at the Circuit Court level he will ask that Zimmerman be prohibited from issuing the election call.

The attorney general bases his case on a constitutional requirement that the Legislature reapportion in the first session following each federal census.

New York Valuation Climbs to Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The tentative assessed valuation of real estate in New York City has reached a record $27,678,596,166. The figure disclosed Wednesday by the City Tax Commission represents a 6.1 per cent increase over last year.

The highest assessed single piece of real estate in the city remains the Chase Manhattan Bank at 1 Chase Plaza. It was tentatively valued at $96 million. Two firms forecasts a slacks and up $9 million over last year.

Valuation of the Empire State Building was fixed at $55 million. Year to police bans on bikinis and also up $9 million. The Rockefeller Center buildings went up to $127,200,000.

State Farmers Differ on Plan Of Kennedy

Bureau Opposed, While Union Head Okays Proposals

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The reaction of Wisconsin farm organizations to President Kennedy's proposed controls on milk production was varied, with one spokesman declaring today the plan "is the road to guaranteed peasantry."

Determined opposition was asserted by the Farm Bureau Federation while there was endorsement from the Wisconsin Farmers Union and reserved approval from the state's largest dairy marketing organization, the Pure Milk Products Cooperative. The President announced the plan Wednesday.

Opposes Plan

William Kasakatas of Madison executive secretary of the farm bureau said "This proposal is a daring attempt by a persistent bureaucracy with an insatiable desire for power to exercise dominion over the dairy business."

"We shall resist," he added with all our strength a dairy farmer - government relationship that retreats to the Dark Ages and parallels the relationship of serf and vassal. It's the road to guaranteed peasantry."

Farmers Union president Gilbert Rohde of Greenwood said:

Rohde Backs

"We are in agreement with that portion of the President's program which a plan is urgently needed to develop a supply management program for the dairy industry."

Rohde was concerned over an announcement that the University of Wisconsin's law department had received his law degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1929. He served from 1935 to 1939 as assistant district attorney for Dane County.

Case Firms Not To Pay Dividend On Preferred

RACINE (AP)—The J. I. Case Co. disclosed today in its annual report that under terms of its new three-year bank credit agreement it will not pay dividends on its two cumulative preferred stocks for at least three more years. And stock are likely to be still further away because the preferred issues must be paid up first.

No dividends can be paid during the three-year period "without the prior written consent" of the bank, but only "if they apply to banks participating in the credit arrangement."

Case lost $32 million in the last fiscal year.

Infant's Food Pulverized; Fast Feeding Not Harmful

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D., ing' is already done; strained
Dear Dr. Molner: Is there harm in feeding an infant from two to six months old rapidly? I have seen so many mothers, including my daughter, feed their babies another mouthful when the first one has not been swallowed. I say it is feeding too fast. — MRS. SLOW EATER

If a baby is fed so fast that he gags, then it's too fast. Otherwise the speed at which food is spooned into him doesn't matter in any significant degree. Nature, fortunately, provides an automatic protection. If a baby is getting food faster than he can handle it, he'll refuse to open his mouth, or let the excess dribble down his chin, or even (in an emergency) blow a mouthful of strained spinach all over his bib.

Always Take Insulin
Dear Dr. Molner: We have several diabetics in the family. At school age they took insulin and watched their diets at all times. They are now grown and eat all foods, but take enough insulin. They seem to get along fine. What's your opinion? — C.M.M., SR.

My opinion? They'll always have to take insulin, always have to keep the amount of food (especially sugar) within the amounts that can be compensated by the insulin. But diabetes patients who, consistently, follow the rules, live long and happy lives.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am one of the many people who cannot take penicillin and am trying to find out where to purchase a silver band or bracelet, with wording to this effect, to wear all the time. I do a lot of traveling and feel this would be a good thing in case of an accident.—MRS. C.G.

I agree. It's an excellent idea for anyone with a severe sensitivity, whether penicillin, tetanus antitoxin or other medication is involved. Diabetics also often carry this type of identification.

Jewelry stores carry such bracelets, or sometimes can show you different styles in catalogs. I've also seen such things advertised. Or, of course, it is not prohibitively costly to buy a bracelet that suits you, and have the wording engraved by the jeweler.

Minor Variations
Dear Dr. Molner: I have just turned 14 years old. I have not yet started to menstruate. I had a few cramps but never at any certain time of every month. All my friends have started, and I am wondering if something could be wrong.—WONDERING

It's human to want to grow up quicker when we are young, and to stay young longer when we are old. There isn't much we can do about either except to live sensibly, stop worrying, and accept life the way it is—and it's part of life for us all to have variations from average.

At 14, I wouldn't worry at all. Some boys shave a year or two Spunky and Lucky are the words for 19-year-old Nora Gunning who returned to her suburban Columbus, Ohio, home from Nashville, Tenn., after four months in Vanderbilt Hospital recovering from auto crash injuries doctors said she had one chance in 100 of surviving. Her injuries included 30 broken bones. Nora displays two souvenirs of her rocky experience — a black cat, named Vandy, and a necklace which her nurses gave her.

KAUKAUNA — An ordinance to set up no parking areas during critical snow removal periods and two other changes in snow removal ordinances will be recommended to the city council by the legislative committee at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

100-to-1 Chance Against It, but Girl Comes Home

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nora Gunning, 19, of nearby Blacklick is home. Doctors last October said she had only one chance in 100 of doing so.

Nora, who was en route to Mexico, suffered 30 broken bones, a collapsed lung and was in a coma for 3½ weeks after an automobile collision near Nashville, Tenn., last October. Doctors gave her a 1-in-100 chance to live.

For four months she has been in Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville staging one of the most surprising recuperations in that hospital's history. Sunday she was released and flew home. "Oh, she's home and it's wonderful," exclaimed her mother, Mrs. Robert Gunning.

Americans Now Escape Paying U. S. Taxes on $50 Billion Income

Treasury Experts Say Shift Would Help Middle-Income Bracket

BY JAMES M. HANWELL
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — Americans escape paying federal income taxes on $40 billion to $50 billion income every year, treasury experts say.

Taxing only $30 billion of this missing income would let congress cut rates on the $165 billion to $180 billion annual income on which Americans now do pay income taxes.

Treasury experts think such a shift would help the middle-income fellow. The rich and the poor benefit from the way things are now.

Income escapes taxation because (1) of its source, called a tax exclusion; (2) the way it is spent, called a tax deduction; or (3) because it isn't reported.

An example of tax exclusion benefiting the rich is tax-free interest on state and local bonds. It amounts to $733,000,000 a year.

To the man in the 91 per cent tax bracket 4.5 per cent tax-free interest is almost as good as 45 per cent taxable interest. To a man in the 50 per cent bracket it is as good as 9 per cent taxable interest.

An example of tax exclusion very important to small taxpayers is the exclusion of social security benefits.

Other examples of excluded income: Sick pay; 80 per cent of capital gains; unrealized gains on property transferred by gift or at death; unemployment compensation; 4 per cent of dividends; a portion of retirement income; a portion of oil, gas and other mineral depletion allowances; $600 exemptions for old age and blindness; income in kind; food and fuel consumed on farms.

Most controversial examples of income not taxed because of the way it is spent are the deductions called business expense by salesmen and corporation executives seeking good will.

Congress is considering a bill to crack down on entertaining customers at theaters, in night clubs, on trips, or sending expensive gifts, maintaining yachts, etc. The bill also would limit travel to "reasonable" expenses, not what might actually have been spent.

Another row centers on business depreciation allowances. Congress is considering a plan to grant taxpayers additional credit amounting to 8 per cent of what they spend for new equipment. The idea is to stimulate business modernization.

Other examples of deductions: Church and charitable contributions; medical and dental expenses; child care expenses; employer payments to employee benefit plans and pensions; interest payments; local taxes; casualty losses.

If you own your home and live in it you really have an income equal to its net rental value. This is called "imputed rent." The treasury believes about 3 per cent of all wages and salaries go unreported, along with $5.8 billion in small dividends and interest payments; $9 billion in profits and fees; $8.7 billion in imputed interest and $5.5 billion in imputed rent.

Thilco Management Club to Hear Talk On Industrial Relations

KAUKAUNA — Glen Massman, president of Dayton, Ohio, industrial relations consulting firm, will speak on "It's Your Future — What About It?" at a dinner meeting of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Management Club Monday at the Elks Clubrooms.

Upon graduation she hopes to continue her education in college where she will major in political science.

Final Tests in Hearing Clinic Set at Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — The third and final session of the hearing clinic which started in city schools last October will be held Wednesday in the city nurse's office.

The clinic started with trained women volunteers testing grade school children and high school juniors. Those found to have possible hearing defects were rechecked by a man from the bureau of handicapped children, who found 24 considered to need further testing.

Dr. John H. Russell, Appleton specialist, will conduct the final phase of examination. Recommendations for corrective measures will be given those needing treatment Wednesday, so at least one parent is to accompany each student.

Copies of the findings by the doctor will be furnished the family physician and school and city nurses. Each child has been assigned a time for examinations, which will run from 8:30 a.m. until noon.

Tax-Free Foundations To be Investigated by Congressional Group

Rep. Patman Says, Philanthropic Units Getting Control of Economy

BY GEOFFREY GOULD
WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time, a congressional committee is taking a hard, detailed look at the financial dealings of some of the big tax-exempt foundations.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of a special committee on small business, announced to the House that his group will hold hearings in the next few months on these tax-free foundations, which have grown from 12,285 in 1952 to more than 45,000 in 1960. Patman has held that these foundations, often set up by commercial business firms, are getting a stranglehold on the national economy and are one of the forces squeezing small business out of existence.

On his own initiative last summer, Patman sent a questionnaire to 500 of the biggest foundations, many of them company-sponsored.

A vast amount of information has flowed in voluntarily in return. An aide estimates a 75 per cent return of the questionnaire. When this mass data is analyzed, he says a detailed accounting of the tremendous holdings and income of these foundations will be spread on the record for the first time.

In an unpublished meeting, Patman's committee backed up his one-man campaign by unanimously approving, with one abstention, a resolution okaying the probe and authorizing subpoena power if necessary to get more information.

Are some of these foundations tax-dodging gimmicks?

"There's no question about that," says Patman's aide, "but it's all legal."

"The guts of the thing is the acquisition and use of enormous funds," he said, "particularly their use. What are they doing with this money? It's virtually difficult to see what they have been up to. There is no statistical information."

Tax exempt foundations are required to file yearly returns with the Internal Revenue Service, but Patman's questionnaire goes far beyond that. It asks for copies of annual reports, including lists of all securities held by the foundation, for each year since 1951.

Figures on income and assets are hard to come by, the aide says, because often property held by foundations is listed at its face value at the time of acquisition. Real estate holdings, for instance, might have skyrocketed in value since the date of acquisition.

"No one knows the accurate income figures for foundations now, but we'll know when we get through," the aide said. "I have an idea it will be an astronomical figure, bigger than anyone dreamed of."

An example of the kind of thing the committee is looking into is the advice of the tax law firm of Berman and Berman to prospective creators of foundations: (a) designate the administrative management of the foundation, (b) control over its investments; (c) appointing relatives as directors of the foundation, (d) foundation's assets can be used to borrow money to buy other property.

"The foundation can keep income in the family."

"We can avoid income from property while it is slowly being given to a foundation by a combination of a trust and the charitable foundation."

This advice to prospective foundationers says a 20 per cent charity tax reduction "in our most advantageous tax year" can be obtained in a number of ways, by using the foundation as a recipient for the charity. It adds:

"We can give away (to the foundation) valuable 'frozen assets,' white elephant estates, residences, valuable works of art, and collections of all arts."

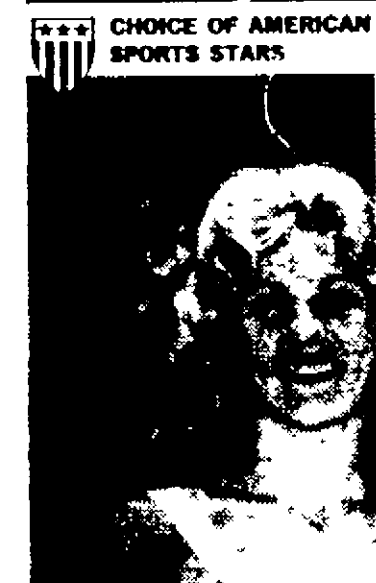

In a speech to the House last summer, Patman said the Kresge Foundation of Detroit holds 1.9 million shares or 34.4 per cent of the S. S. Kresge chain store firm. The income from this foundation-held stock was more than $3 million in 1960. The income was tax-exempt.

Patman observed that such exemptions "create a greater tax burden for the rest of the American people."

He said foundations are "established with money a large part of which otherwise would go into the federal treasury as taxes," and added:

In announcing the formal committee investigation, Patman said that certain foundations "not only engage in money-lending on a large scale" but have substantial interests in such businesses as soft drinks, mortgages, real estate, gas stations, banking, utilities, textiles, lumber, meat packing, insurance, coal mining and commercial laboratories.

And he added, "the number of exempt foundations increases daily. It is the duty of Congress to know the resultant effects on our nation's economy and to determine what should or should not be done about it."

President Becomes More Aggressive

Kennedy Takes Active Role When Dealing With Congress

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—There's a slow change in President Kennedy. He's becoming more aggressive, more politically active.

more determined and, perhaps, more self-confident. This has shown up in his dealings with Congress last month and at his news conferences. He held his third of the year Wednesday. How much change there is should become clear these next few months. This evolution in the presidency could be Kennedy's response to criticism that he was following too easy a course or simply his own decision that, having tried mildness, he'd do better being tougher. Was Canine? All through 1961 he acted very much like President Eisenhower. Careful not to needle or settle his political opponents in Congress (in his case the Republicans) or precipitate quarrels. This was approach, as it did with Eisenhower, paid off handsomely in public opinion. Polls showed both men extremely popular. But the basic question remained: Does a president get the most done being nice all the time? Should Lead. It had been suggested last year that whenever a president shows a willingness to compromise he winds up having to compromise whereas the real role of a president is to lead, even if it means making enemies. This was pretty much accepted as Kennedy's reasoning in 1961. Although his Democrats have a big majority in Congress, any time the conservative Southern Democrats team up with the conservative Republicans the balance of power shifts and the President is stopped cold. By this reasoning it could be understood why in 1961 he refrained from making good for example on his 1960 campaign promise to offer civil rights legislation as one of his first acts as president. If he had pushed for civil rights in Congress it might have angered the Southern Democrats and jeopardized some of his other programs. As late as the last days of December in Palm Beach men who talked with him there reported he still indicated reluctance to have a head-on clash with Congress over civil rights. They also reported he was reluctant to hit Congress with a reorganization plan to create a new department of urban affairs and housing, preferring to let Congress in its own slow way handle the problem in the form of the usual bills. (Under the reorganization plan method—once he offered it—he would simply go ahead and create the new department if within 60 days neither House nor Senate by a majority vote opposed it. And those who talked with him also said he was reluctant to tear into the Republicans—although this is a congressional election year—at least until this session of Congress ended and the campaign had begun. Before the end of January he had done just the opposite on all three. Reversing his doing nothing performance on civil rights legislation in 1961 he has now openly backed it. He has thrown his reorganization plan for a new urban affairs department at Congress. And he has started ripping into the Republicans for trying to block a reorganization bill to set up the department. All these moves were a switch in tactics. Both Southern Democrats and Republicans started crying in protest. What really counts in all this, of course, is not just these preliminary steps by Kennedy but how much follow-through he's willing to give when a little later this year in Congress the going gets lots rougher. It's too soon therefore to say he has now decided as a fixed policy that a much tougher line is the better part of wisdom. But at least there has been a beginning.

Food, Not Starvation, For Diets

AMA Recommends 1500 Calorie Way To Fight Weight

Food, not starvation, is the hard core of any weight reducing program that will get you back to your desirable weight and keep you there permanently. Overweight is one of the major health problems in America today, says an article in Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association. About one in every five men and women over 30 in the United States is carrying about a dangerous number of excess pounds. Reducing diets abound. So-called "health" and "natural" foods, pills, vitamin supplements and drugs for weight control are legion. There are gadgets such as vibrating machines, electric belts and mechanical exercises. The article estimates more than $100 million is wasted annually on these nonsensical products by the gullest of fat. No Tricks Needed. Actually, no trick, miracle or special foods are needed unless recommended by your physician. The most effective weight reducing program is one which re-educates the individual to the amount of food needed per day and which stresses the importance of including a variety of foods in the daily diet. Regardless of how fat you are, most experts in weight control would not recommend a diet of less than 1500 calories. On the 1500 calorie daily diet pattern recommended by the American Dietetic Association you will lose weight regularly provided you take some moderate exercise every day.

1500 Calorie Daily Diet
1 pint of whole milk
1 egg
5 ounces of lean meat, poultry, fish (broiled, boiled or roasted), or cheese. Liver once weekly.
One half cup enriched or whole grain cereal, 1 small potato, 4 slices enriched or whole wheat bread (or one half cup cooked spaghetti or noodles, cooked cereal, a muffin, biscuit or 2 inch square of cornbread).
1 serving green or yellow vegetable.
2 servings of other vegetables.
1 serving citrus fruit or tomato (4-ounce glass grapefruit or orange juice, 8-ounce glass tomato juice).
2 servings other fruit, fresh or unsweetened.
4 teaspoons butter or enriched margarine.
If you don't lose weight fast enough to suit you on this diet you could drop to 1200 calories. To do so, use skim milk or buttermilk instead of whole milk and cut out cereal, potato or one slice of bread and one teaspoon of fat daily.
Dieting and the daily calorie needs are personal matters. To be safe and effective any dieting plan must take into account sex, age, activity and rate of weight reduction desired. The safest and surest route to a weight-reducing dietary program is to see your doctor and follow his advice.

February Filled With Special Days, Just Made for Parties Featuring Colorful Foods

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

February may be the shortest month of the year, but it has more than its share of special days that seem to be made for partying . . . at least from a creative cook's point of view.

It's a lovely party month . . . all of its 28 days . . . because the birthday anniversaries of Lincoln and Washington and sentimental Valentine's Day are spaced in fair fashion to be celebrated either on or near the exact date.

Refreshments needn't be elaborate . . . but eye-catching and appealing are edible symbols that usually take the form of a dessert. A Lincoln log with a delicious flavor of chocolate and lavishly covered with a Butter Mocha Frosting is one idea . . . a duplication of Martha Washington's famous Cream Pie recipe in its original form or more streamlined adaptation is a suggestion for honoring the Father of our country.

Desserts for Valentine's Day ought to be pink and pretty such as Vanilla Bavarian Cream, chilled in a heart-shaped mold and served with a strawberry sauce. Cherry Supreme Salad . . . a gelatin dessert . . . makes a fine choice for any or all of the month's specials.

Many compliments will be received for these two easy-to-make desserts with their February significance. Flag Cake is made with frozen strawberries and the jaunty tricorn-hat pastries are filled with cherries and cherry gelatin.

Spice Cake Fruited With Prunes

Filled with delicious prune pieces and topped with a toasted meringue frosting, Fruited Spice Cake is a dessert that's delicious down to its last crumb.

It's an all-occasion dessert that can be served in big generous squares fresh from the oven or cold the day after it's made. This cake stays moist and tender for three or four days.

Here is the recipe:

Fruited Spice Cake
2 cups unsifted cake flour
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
3/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup soft shortening
1 cup sour milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs, unbeaten
1/2 cup ground cooked prunes
2 egg whites
1 cup sifted brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

To measure cake flour, spoon flour to overflowing into nested measuring cups. Level off with straight-edged spatula.

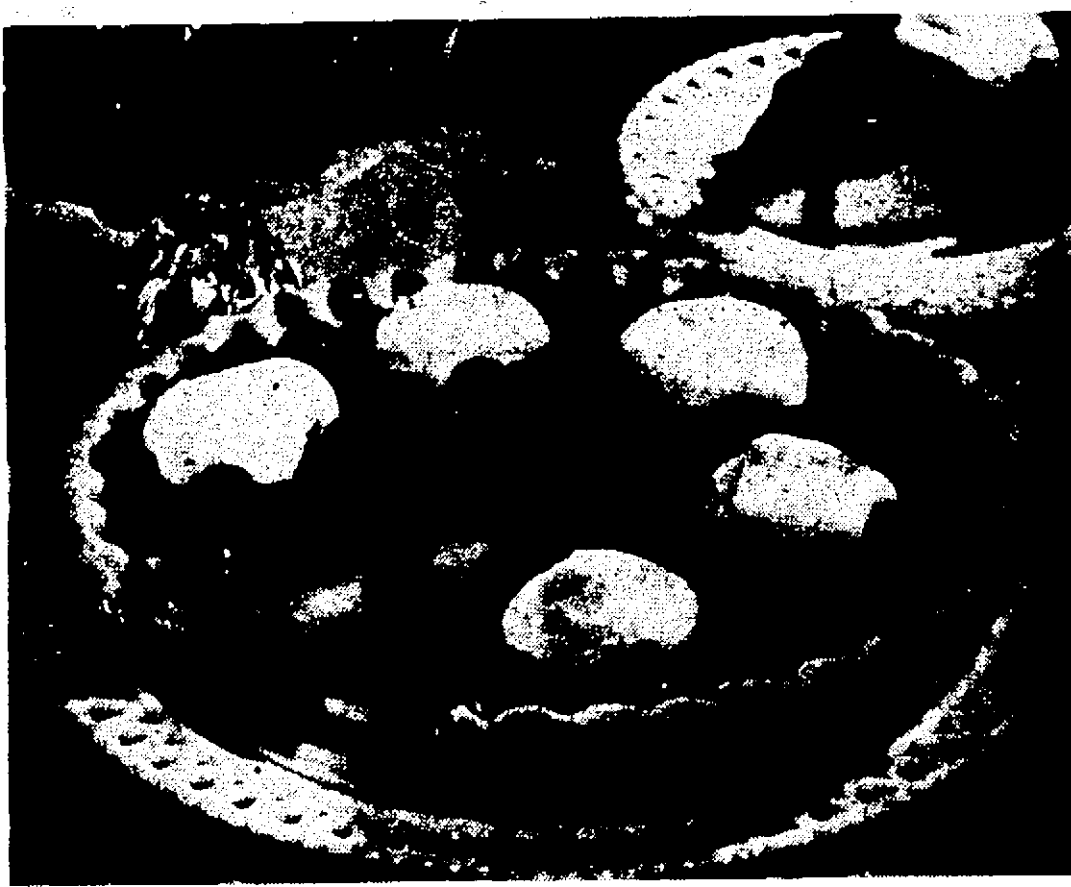

Also, about 16 prunes make the three-fourth measurement called for when prunes are cooked and ground.

It is necessary to follow the recipe directions faithfully and carefully . . . but the resulting dessert is worth all the trouble.

Directions

Sift, or stir to mix thoroughly, flour, sugar, baking powder, soda, salt, and spices into mixing bowl. Add shortening, sour milk and vanilla. Beat 200 round-the-bowl strokes or two minutes on electric mixer at low speed.

Scrape bowl and spoon or beater. Add eggs and beat 200 round-the-bowl strokes or two minutes

Cherry Cream Pie . . . Either This one or the recipe for Martha Washington's famous one . . . makes an excellent choice for February desserts. This particular pie is a quickie recipe that takes advantage of packaged vanilla pudding for its filling that's topped with sparkling glazed cherries.

Mrs. Malmstrom to Attend Foreign Policy Briefing

Mrs. Homer Malmstrom, president of the Wisconsin Division of AAWW has been invited to attend a Department of State Foreign Policy Briefing Conference Friday and Saturday at St. Paul, Minn.

Conference speakers will be:

Golden Agers Organize in Little Chute

Approximately 30 persons turned out for an organizational meeting of a Little Chute Golden Age Club. It would be sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Those attending were asked to call their friends and inform them of the efforts to organize a social club, which will meet regularly for card playing and lunch. Plans will also be made for various special activities and events throughout the year.

Membership is open to all village residents 60 years of age or older and their spouses. Mrs. Ed Spierings is auxiliary member in charge of the organization. A second organizational meeting is being planned.

Alpha Phi Alumnae Elect First Officers

Officers were elected at a recent meeting of the newly organized Alpha Phi Alumnae Club of the Fox River Valley. Mrs. John Langan, Neenah, will serve as president and Mrs. Bruce McEachern, Appleton, as secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the club is to help college chapters of the national social sorority, whose headquarters are in Evanston, Ill.

Joint PTA Session

CLINTONVILLE—A joint meeting of the Clintonville PTA will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Junior High School auditorium. Dr. Roger Guiles of Oak-kosh State College will be the principal speaker.

So here they are . . . a wonderful collection of February recipes with which to surprise and please family or friends.

Strawberry Fluff

Flag Dessert

2 pkgs. frozen sliced or halved strawberries
2 cans frozen concentrated lemonade graham cracker crust
4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 pkgs. strawberry gelatin
4 egg whites
1 cup water
1 1/2 cups nonfat dry milk

Allow frozen strawberries and lemonade concentrate to stand in unopened containers at room temperature for approximately one hour. Make graham cracker crust while they are defrosting (see recipe below).

Drain strawberries, reserving juice, and place berries in refrigerator to chill.

Combine strawberry juice, lemonade, egg yolks and salt in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring until mixture comes to a full rolling boil. Remove from heat and stir strawberry gelatin into hot mixture until completely dissolved. Chill until almost set.

Turn egg whites, water and dry milk into bowl; whip with electric mixer or rotary beater until stiff. Fold stiff foam into jelled mixture; combine thoroughly. Chill briefly until jelled together.

Fold in berries to distribute evenly. Turn into chilled crust. Chill dessert until firm, about two hours. Keep chilled until ready to serve. Use whipped cream or prepared topping to form flag stripes. Use white or light-colored candies for stars.

Graham Cracker Crust

2 1/2 cups fine graham cracker crumbs
6 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Stir crumbs and sugar together in bowl, then thoroughly mix in melted butter. Pack firmly into large rectangular pan, pressing firmly to bottom and sides. Bake in 350-degree oven about eight minutes. Let stand at room temperature to cool. Chill briefly for Flag Dessert.

Cherry Tricornes

20 ounces frozen pitted cherries

There'll be No Cheating on Eating if this deliciously rich chocolate roll, fashioned into log shape, is served to observe the birthday anniversary of Honest Abe. The cake is made like a jelly roll and then is generously covered with a Mocha Butter Frosting.

Cherry Supreme Salad, Using Canned cherry pie filling, gelatin and grapefruit juice, will add a festive note to any February occasion. It can be a Valentine special for a dessert bridge or may be used to promote the colorful themes for anniversary parties honoring our country's patriots.

pastry for double crust pie juice drained from cherries
1/2 cup water
1 pkg. cherry gelatin

Allow unopened frozen cherries to stand at room temperature about one hour while preparing and cooling pastry.

Drain juice from cherries. Add water to juice to make one and one-half cups liquid or one cup liquid if cherries still frosty.

Heat liquid; mix with cherry gelatin until latter dissolved. Add cherries and chill until almost jelled, stirring occasionally.

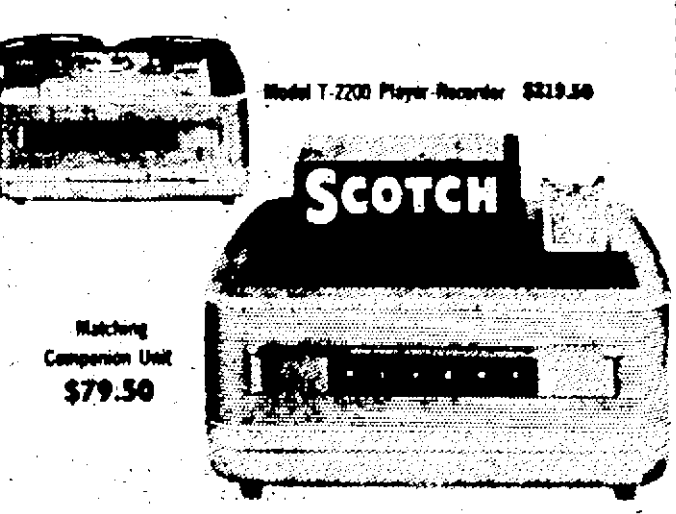

*Turn thickened filling into eight cooled tricorn shells. Chill until ped cream or topping.

How to Make Tricorns

Roll pastry into two balls.
Roll out just enough so that each ball may be cut evenly into four parts. Roll each of the eight pieces of dough to 1/4-inch thickness.

Roll a 9/16-inch round of heavy aluminum foil on each round of rolled-out dough; cut to fit foil.
Turn over so aluminum is on the outside; pinch foil and pastry together at three equally divided points at edge of circle to make tricorns.

Place pastry tricorns on cookie sheet. Bake in 400-degree, preheated oven from eight to 10 minutes or until pastry is lightly brown. Cool on rack, then remove foil pans. Chill briefly before filling with cherry gelatin mixture.

Chocolate Lincoln Log

4 eggs
1/2 cup sifted cake flour
1/2 cup unsifted cocoa
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sifted granulated sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
confectioners sugar vanilla flavored whipped cream mocha butter frosting

Have eggs at room temperature. Line a greased jelly roll pan with waxed paper; grease paper and set aside.

Sift together flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt. Set aside.

Break eggs into large bowl of electric mixer; sprinkle the granulated sugar and vanilla extract over eggs. Beat at high speed until very thick and light, about 10 minutes. Fold in flour mixture all at one time with spatula.
Turn batter into jelly roll pan and bake in preheated, 375-degree oven from 20 to 25 minutes, or until cake springs back when touched lightly with fingers.

Remove cake from heat. Loosen cake with paper from sides of pan with spatula. Turn out onto clean towel that has been sprinkled generously with sifted con-fectioners sugar. Quickly peel off paper; trim off crisp edges with sharp knife. Cool exactly five minutes.

After cake cooled, roll up from narrow end, rolling towel in it.
Cool on wire rack for at least one hour.

Shortly before serving time, un-roll cake leaving it on towel.
Spread cake with vanilla whipped cream to within one inch of edges. Roll again in jelly roll fashion. Place on serving dish with open end under. Spread with Mocha Butter Frosting.

To make cake look like a log, run times of fork the length of cake to give the effect of bark.
Pipe green decorator frosting tube to make leaves. Cut in crosswise slices to serve.

Mocha Butter Frosting
1 1/2 teaspoons instant coffee
1/2 cup sifted cocoa
1/2 cup softened butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted confectioners sugar

Blend instant coffee and cocoa with softened butter; add vanilla and blend. Add confectioners sugar alternately with enough light cream to make good spreading consistency. Spread on outside of Lincoln Log.

Vanilla Bavarian Cream
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
1 1/4 cups milk
1/4 cup sugar

Place gelatin, salt and first fourth-cup sugar in top of double boiler; mix well. Stir in egg yolks and gradually blend in milk.
Stir and cook over hot but not boiling water until custard coats a metal spoon, about 10 minutes. Remove from heat; chill until mixture is a little thicker than unbeaten egg whites.

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft, stiff peaks. Gradually beat in second fourth-cup of sugar. Fold into custard along with whipped cream, vanilla and as much red food coloring as desired.

Turn into oiled 1 1/2-quart mold.
Chill until firm and ready to serve. Just before serving time, turn out onto plate. Garnish with rosettes of whipped cream, put through a pastry tube. Spoon defrosted strawberries over top of each serving.

Martha Washington's Cream Pie

3 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons hot milk

Have eggs at room temperature. Break eggs into mixing bowl and beat at high speed until thick and light, about five minutes with an electric mixer. Gradually beat in sugar, along with vanilla. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together; fold a small amount at a time into egg mixture. Quickly stir in hot (not boiling) milk.

Turn batter into two 8-inch round layer cake pans with bottoms lined with greased browned or waxed paper. Bake in preheated, 375-degree oven for 20 minutes or until cake tester comes out clean. Remove from oven and cool on wire cake coolers. Put layers together with Vanilla Cream Filling. Sprinkle top with sifted confectioners sugar.

Quick Cherry Cream Pie

1 baked pie shell
1 pkg. vanilla pudding mix milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon can red tart cherries (no. 2 can)

red food coloring
sweetened whipped cream
Prepare vanilla pudding-pie filling mix according to package directions, using milk amount called for. Pour into baked pie shell.

For the topping, blend sugar, cornstarch, cinnamon; stir in three-fourths cup of juice drained from cherries. If not enough, add cold water to juice to make three-fourths cup. Cook until thick and clear, stirring constantly.
Add food coloring to brighten color. Add well-drained cherries.
Cool before spreading over vanilla cream layer. Chill. Top with sweetened whipped cream.

Cherry Supreme Salad

1 can cherry pie filling
4 teaspoons plain gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup grapefruit juice watercress or other greens

Soften gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Heat canned cherry filling to boiling; remove from heat and stir in softened gelatin.
Add grapefruit juice. Turn into 3-cup mold; refrigerate. Just before serving time, unmold onto chilled plate. Top with dressing and garnish with greens.

Mother's Helper

by Thomas & Thomas

YOU SURELY are not the mother who takes her small moppet where he definitely does not belong: meetings, classes, entertainments—even Cab or Brownie gatherings. You're the mother who knows his antics are precious only to you, and you arrange for him to be taken care of elsewhere while you're attending any of the

Chopped Almonds, Grated Orange rind, fragrant Spanish olive oil, cumin powder and parsley are ingredients which give Spanish cooking unique flair.

Creative Cooks Use Seasonings, Oftenest in Convenience Foods

In this era of convenience foods, the fine art of seasoning is in danger of being lost. Because we can buy foods ready to heat and serve, too many of us tend to do just that.

But it is precisely with convenience foods that seasoning becomes important. Take a frozen or canned product, add a pinch of an unusual spice, a sprinkling of an offbeat herb, summer it in wine instead of water or saute it in fragrant olive oil instead of a more bland fat or oil—and suddenly you have an altogether new dish, one with vibrant flavor. It's the easiest way in the world to be creative.

Americans are familiar with classic French dishes, and Italian foods are so much a part of our cuisine now, we almost forget their origin at times. Spanish flavoring tricks are not so well known and they wait to be "discovered."

If a dish is Spanish, you can almost be sure it was cooked with olive oil. Spain produces more olive oil than any other country in the world and native connoisseurs can guess which province an oil comes from much as wine connoisseurs know vineyards.

Unique Fragrance
Olive oil is not just another cooking fat; it lends its own unique fragrance to other foods and changes the character of the finished dish. Fry fish in olive oil —suddenly it has an almost meaty flavor. Frozen fish fillets need some big flavor boost for in the freezing, much of the original flavor is destroyed. Olive oil will do wonders, so will fresh parsley.

When the Spanish use parsley it's not just as decoration on the platter. They mince it fine and add it by the fistful. In those crisp curly leaves there are vitamins aplenty and iron, too, to say nothing of a peppery fragrance.

Cumin is another Spanish favorite, "comino" as the Spanish call it. Buy it in seeds to crush yourself with mortar and pestle or in a pepper grinder, or buy the cumin powder. A pinch of cumin does wonders for fish, changes chicken into an ambrosial item.

Discover almonds as flavoring, too. It's not necessary to go through the tedious business of blanching and toasting almonds; just chop the shelled nuts coarsely, saute them in Spanish Olive oil, and all that marvelous nutty flavor comes forth. Try a sprink-
—suddenly it has an almost meaty
flavor. Frozen fish fillets need some big flavor boost for in the
freezing, much of the original flavor is destroyed. Olive oil will do wonders, so will fresh parsley.

Olive oil frequently is combined with another chief product of Spain: sherry. Rub a chicken all over with olive oil, baste it with sherry as it roasts—ole! Or make a delectable basting sauce for chicken or veal with grated orange peel, sherry, grated onion, a dash of cinnamon and olive oil—a strange and wonderful combination of flavors.

Here are a few examples of how these fascinating tricks can be used.

Frozen Fish Supper

Cut frozen fish fillets into equal serving pieces. Four Spanish olive oil in baking dish, enough to cover bottom; lay finely minced onion and parsley over oil, then place fish fillets on the onion. Brush more over the fish, sprinkle with salt. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Sprinkle with finely chopped almonds tossed with olive oil, baste five to 10 minutes longer or until fish flakes easily. (For still more flavor, add a few tablespoons of Spanish sherry to the fish as it bakes.)

Grilled Shrimp to Saus

Marinate shelled frozen shrimp lower heat. As vegetables get tender, add about two tablespoons of finely-minced parsley. A golden crust should form on bottom; fold this over omelet-like. Superb with hamburgers.

Fish Sticks Madrileña

Saute frozen fish sticks in hot olive oil until well-browned on all sides. Remove. Add one small minced onion and one or two garlic cloves, cook in olive oil until tender. Add one fourth cup minced fresh parsley and six coarsely chopped shelled almonds.
Cook one minute longer. Serve onion mixture as relish over fish sticks. Sprinkle with lemon juice.

Spanish Fried Potatoes

Cut raw potatoes in thin crosswise slices; slice an equal amount of onions, very thin. Fry in a generous amount of Spanish olive oil.
Chopping vegetables with a sharp knife as they cook. Sprinkle with

Shainwold Finesse Not Always Best

What should you do when the finesse doesn't work? The answer was furnished in one of the hands of the recent World Bridge Olympic played all over the world.

South wins the first diamond and draws three rounds of finesse since a heart or diamond return would let you ruff in dummy and discard the jack of clubs from your hand.

Leading the five of clubs gives up your chance for an extra trick, but you shouldn't worry about 30 points when 1330 points hang in the balance.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold : S-J-10-8; H-K-10-8; D-7-5-3; C-4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. You don't quite have the values for a normal response, but you should avoid passing when you have a fairly good 6-card major suit. Nobody will send you to jail for passing, but the heart response is better than a pass.

PTA to Discuss Social Studies

CLANTONVILLE—The St. Rose Home School Association will meet at 8 p.m. Feb. 1 in St. Rose meeting room for a discussion of social studies in the intermediate grades.

Mrs. Catherine Schmeer, teacher of grade five, is the program chairman. She will be assisted by Sister Marcolino, teacher of grade six, and Mrs. Norma Mahinger, teacher of grade four.

The social studies will be treated from three points of view: that of importance in the modern curriculum, their newly suggested methods of study, and use as a tool in the formation of Christian attitudes and character.

Your Problems

Ann Assures Readers That Letters are Never 'Made-Up'

BY ANN LANDERS

Dear Readers: I'm often asked if I make up letters. The answer is no. Made up letters would be pale indeed compared with the mail that crosses my desk every day.

I'm also asked if I change the letters much. The answer is, very little. However, most letters must be cut for reasons of space. Others must be laundered, or the grammar corrected.

Once in a blue moon I come across a letter which can be printed exactly as it was written—without changing or omitting a word. I'm printing such a letter today.

Although this letter runs longer than most which are used in the column I'm printing it in its entirety because it deals with so many familiar complaints—complaints which destroy modern marriages. This letter reflects life as it is lived by too many people. Here it is:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your new book "Since You Ask Me" is terrific. Every chapter has something valuable in it. I'm saying it for my 9-year-old daughter to read in a couple of years. If I had read it when I was 11 my life might have been different.

Boys were never a problem until I met B. It was the same old garbage—"love at first sight." Within a month we were having an affair. I was only 15. Five months later I was pregnant. I had a "premature" child at 16.

I'm 25 now and my social calendar this past year reads like this: Three drive-in movies with our two kids.

I admit I'm a lousy housekeeper but there's so much to do I can't get organized. I'm a lousy mother, too, but we can't afford sitters very often, so I'm with the kids too much. They must be sick of you write for Ann Landers' book. Let "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. My dog suffers pain from anal glands. Is there any kind of medicine to alleviate this condition? Dr. M.B. Gardner, White-stone, N.Y.

A. The anal glands are one of the dog's most sensitive spots. At one time when dogs were wild and free, the glands served a purpose. Under modern sedentary living conditions these glands become filled. Then they can be the seat of an infection and possibly cancer. They serve no useful purpose for the dog. I usually advise that they be removed by surgery, an operation similar to a human hemorrhoid operation. I have rarely heard of fatalities due to the operation and I would strongly recommend that it be done in preference to the use of any medicine which could give only temporary relief.

The Ailing House Use Special Nails for Shingles

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: A few shingles on my roof have to be replaced because of damage to them. They are asphalt. How do I put on the replacement shingles?

A: Carefully lift up the edge of the shingle above the one to be replaced and pry up the nails holding the defective shingle so you can slide it out. Nail with special galvanized nails made for use with asphalt shingles. Be sure to seal old nail holes with dabs of roofing cement.

Q: We are planning to remodel our home shortly and want to install an automatic dishwasher; we now have an automatic clothes washer and drier which we are considering moving. Is there any disadvantage to have these at opposite sides of the house?

A: If possible, it is advisable to have hot water-using appliances as close as possible to the water heater. Less piping is required, reducing the initial cost of the piping, and since the water travels a shorter distance there is less heat loss and a lower fuel cost therefore.

Tasty Meal in Just 30 Minutes

Have you ever wished for a delicious meal that you could cook and serve in a jiffy? Your wish is coming true. Here's a recipe for a quick, easy, and delicious meal that can be prepared in just 30 minutes.

Just imagine—a dinner menu created around a variety of delicious foods—such as shrimp creole, for instance. Miss Kuester With it, choose any number of appetizing vegetables, plus mouth-watering hot rolls. For that perfect ending to a perfect meal, you can serve a delicious dessert like ice cream puffs smothered with luscious chocolate peppermint sauce.

Mmmmmmm—sound wonderful? The best news, though, is that it's on your dinner table in just 30 minutes.

Here is a sample menu that takes only 30 minutes from freezer to table: Shrimp Creole with Steamed Rice (quick-cooking); Brussels Sprouts; Carrot Curls; Toasted Waffles; Devil's Food Cup Cakes with Ice Cream, and Coffee.

- 1 1/2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup chopped onions
- 1 garlic clove, minced fine
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 2 cups drained canned tomatoes
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 bay leaves
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder
- Sauce package cooked and drained frozen shrimp
- 3 cups cooked quick-cooking rice

Melt butter in skillet. Add onions, garlic and green pepper. Cook uncovered until soft (about 10 minutes), stirring occasionally. Add tomatoes, seasonings and frozen shrimp. Cover and simmer for five minutes, or until shrimp is thawed and thoroughly heated. Cook rice according to directions on package. Serve on hot cooked rice. Recipe makes four servings.

Carrot Curls
Wash and pare medium-sized carrot. Shave thin, lengthwise slices from carrot. Curl slices around finger. Place in bowl of ice and chill in refrigerator until crisp and curled (about two hours). Dry and serve. Makes about 12 curls.

Toasted Waffles
Prepare frozen Brussels sprouts according to package directions.

Devil's Food Cup Cakes
To FROZE: Bake waffles as usual; cool. Divide into quarters or leave whole, as desired. If freezing more than single layer of waffles, place piece of moisture-vaporproof material between layers. Wrap in moisture-vaporproof material; label. Place in food freezer and freeze.

TO THAW AND HEAT: Unwrap waffle quarters. Place in automatic toaster with dial set at light. Or place unwrapped waffles on shelf in 400-degree oven for two minutes. Serve immediately as bread.

- Devil's Food Cupcakes
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 1 1/2 squares (1 1/2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
- 1 cup sifted cake flour
- 1/2 cup milk

Combine shortening, salt, baking soda, and vanilla extract in medium sized mixing bowl. Beat until mixture is creamed. Add sugar gradually, creaming until light. Add egg; beat until well blended. Add chocolate and blend thoroughly.

Add flour to first mixture alternately with milk, beating until smooth after each addition. Spoon into 3-inch shallow greased cupcake pans. Bake in 325 degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes. Makes 12 cup cakes.

Paper baking cups can be used in the cupcake pans instead of greasing them. TO FROZE: Cool cupcakes thoroughly at room temperature. Wrap in moisture-vaporproof material. Place in freezer cartons in convenient numbers for serving; place in food freezer and freeze.

TO THAW: Remove cupcakes from carton, but leave in moisture-vaporproof material. Place on cake rack; let stand at room temperature for 25 minutes.

Today's Etiquette

WANTS TO REVISE LIST

Although my husband and I called on the parents of our son's fiancée at the time of the engagement and although we offered to cooperate, we have not been informed of the wedding plans or the progress. However, we were asked for a list of names for the invitations. I complied, giving those in our immediate family along with eight couples who are our closest friends. The total number came to 51 people. To our dismay, our list was cut without any preliminary conference as to priority guests. Do we have the privilege of asking for a revision? We are willing to accept the smaller number without quibbling, but feel that we should have something to say about our preferences. There are some relatives and friends who are closer to us than others.

Louise Davis Answers: Yes, you have the privilege of asking for a revision and let us hope you succeed. When you contact the bride's mother, you could explain diplomatically that you have some relatives and friends

Fabric Window Shades

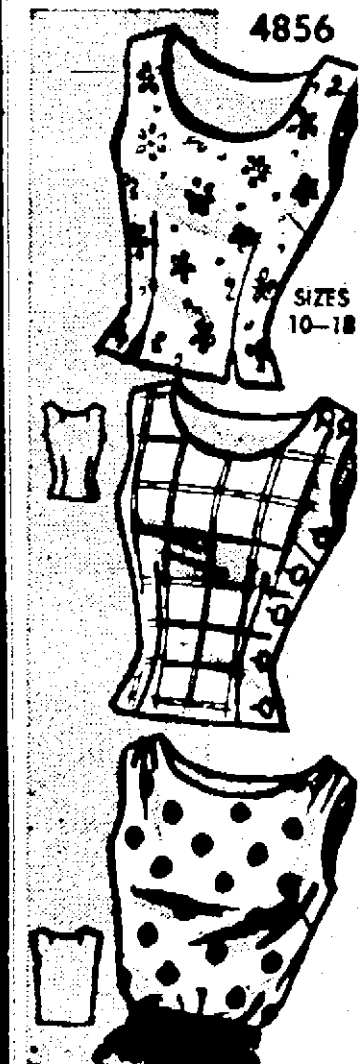

The best way to apply fabric to window shades is to let the shade maker do it, with a new adhesive that does a better job than anything else. When new shades are ordered at the shade department of the store or at the shade shop, supply enough of the curtain, slipcover or bedspread fabric to cover them. The new adhesive solves all problems of affixing cotton, rayon, acetate, orlon, nylon and dacron fabrics to durable vinyl coated shades, but the use of glazed chintz isn't recommended. The shades should be shadow-proof to stand between the fabric and the sun.

Interior designer Paul Kraus, A.I.D., uses a brilliant floral rayon print at this window, for the shade and draped center of the valance. The window treatment is completed in heavy white rayon trimmed with black carpet tape.

Questions Whether This Is Good for Entire Country

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON—The Kennedy Administration may not realize it but an image of better-skeller is being created by its own publicity apparatus. The idea is being conveyed that what is good for the political machine is also good for America.

Several things have caused a raising of eyebrows here, and a feeling of concern is beginning to spread throughout the country. Questions like these are being asked:

1. Why is the Administration seeking to tighten its control of all the political organizations in the larger cities of the country by building up a Department of Urban Affairs that could conceivably dictate to municipal governments and take from the local authorities the control of their own cities?

2. Why is the President by-passing the Department of State and the U.S. Information Agency, for which Congress expends annually a lot of money on the theory that the conduct of foreign relations and the carrying on of information programs, respectively, are the direct responsibilities of those two executive agencies in the government?

3. Why did the President recently conduct a series of inner government conferences, including 32 of the top policy-making officials, and set forth the policies of the government in the cold war without making any explanation to the American people or to Congress of the important decisions he has reached on foreign policy?

Given Briefing
The newspapers were given background information on these inside conferences, and naturally such dispatches were read with considerable curiosity in Congress and by Allied governments abroad, if not by the Moscow government as well.

Subjects like our preparations for limited and conventional war and counter-guerrilla operations have certain aspects that need not be publicized, but it would have been helpful to the understanding of American policies throughout the world if the firmness attributed to the President during his conferences with high officers of the government had been put in some official form for the rest of the world to read.

The by-passing of the Department of State and the U.S. Information Agency has been revealed in the announcement that the President's press secretary, who doesn't speak Russian and who has had no experience in the foreign service, is suddenly to undertake a high-level negotiation with a top Soviet personality on the matter of exchanging television and other information programs. Why isn't a task like this performed by Edward R. Murrow, director of the U.S. Information Agency through the American embassy in Moscow?

Representative Bruce Alger of Texas, Republican, in a speech in the House of Representatives on Wednesday charged that the president is "indulging in more secret diplomacy with the Soviets," and added:

Alger Goes On
"We cannot take a chance that a young and inexperienced White House publicity man will be able to deal successfully with the tough representatives of the Kremlin." Alger said he is concerned about the meeting between Khrushchev's

Gilbert Ferrey, Left, and Victor Pankey, both of Tustin, Calif., describe their experiences in an East German prison where they spent four months after their arrest for attempting to smuggle an East German girl into West Berlin. The boys, both 20-year-old college students, said their only reason was a desire to help her because they felt sorry for her.

2 Youths Recovering From German Prison

20 Years Old, They Tried to Smuggle
East German Girl Across Sealed Border

BY JOE LEWIS
TUSTIN, Calif. (AP)—The big house on the tree-shaded acre at 320 W. Main St. expressed a lot about Southern California living—casualness, spaciousness and feeling of tranquility.

Victor Pankey, who lives here with his parents, and his close friend, Gilbert Ferrey, recently were released from a Communist prison in East Germany.

The boys, both 20-year-old college students, had been prisoners for four months. They had spent the first 35 days in solitary confinement, isolated in airless dark cells about 9 feet high, 3 feet wide and 12 feet long.

Grave Concern
They had been arrested for trying to smuggle an East Berlin girl across the border to the West. Their secret trial and subsequent confinement caused grave concern in the United States—this country doesn't recognize East Germany and normal diplomatic channels were not available to secure the boys' release.

Now the boys are home again, still tense and pale after the emotional stress of their ordeal.

Sitting in the living room of the Pankey home, they told how it happened.

The youths were touring West Berlin after completing summer college courses in Europe. On Sept. 8, they crossed the border to see East Berlin. Later that sunny Friday afternoon, they strolled into an East Berlin post office and got in line behind an auburn-haired girl.

She Helped Them
The girl, whom the boys called Erica, helped them with the confusing East German postal regulations and soon they struck up a casual friendship. She offered to assist them in placing a transatlantic telephone call. The Americans delightedly accepted.

Driving about East Berlin, Erica commented about their passports. It was wonderful to have a piece of paper that permits you to cross borders, she told them wistfully. Discussing her lot in a Communist society, Erica said tearfully: "For me, life in East Germany is a prison."

She asked them to sneak her across the border. The boys refused regretfully and left for West Berlin. Later that day they realized they still had a considerable number of East German marks that they couldn't spend in the West, so they decided to have dinner in East Berlin.

Again they drove across the border, went to Erica's apartment and took her to dinner. Afterwards they strolled about the town and once again Erica asked for help.

Just Routine
The boys reconsidered: they had gone across the border twice that day and the Communist guards had waved them on with only a routine look at their passports.

Hurrying to a darkened street, they concealed Erica in the trunk of the tiny West German car and sped toward the border crossing. This time the guards demanded they open their trunk. Sweating with anxiety, the boys stalled and argued for 15 minutes. The guards opened the trunk and found Erica. All three were arrested.

Victor and Gilbert are not certain whether the guards were tipped off or whether they be-

Sellers Reminded Of $2 Permit for Sales Tax Goods

MADISON (AP)—Sellers of items subject to Wisconsin's new sales tax were reminded Wednesday they need a $2 permit to do business.

Tax Commissioner John Groszowski called attention to the requirement but said that because of a time problem, the department has extended the deadline for obtaining permits to Feb. 15. The law originally set the deadline for Tuesday—when the sales tax law goes into effect.

Applications for permits have been pouring into the department's processing center in Madison. Applications are available from banks and regional tax department offices.

The permit requirement was put into the law to make sure the state has a record of firms dealing in taxable items.

The department also announced it plans to start distribution Friday of its booklet containing classified list of taxable items.

came suspicious when the boys tried to cross the border three times in one day.

Saw Her Again
They discount speculation that Erica may have been a Communist plant in a blackmail attempt to embarrass the United States into some form of diplomatic recognition of East Germany.

They saw Erica once again at their secret trial when she testified in their behalf. They assume she, too, was sent to prison. They refused to disclose her last name nor would they say why—except to say they were protecting her.

The youths said they were not permitted to see their Communist defense attorney until two days before the start of the trial. Most of the time they spent with their lawyer was wasted in cold war-type debate, they recalled ruefully. They were sentenced to two years imprisonment.

Last December young Pankey's father, Edgar Pankey, a prominent citrus rancher, sent an impassioned plea for mercy to the East German dictator, Walter Ulbricht: the boys were released Jan. 15.

The Reds' motive for releasing them apparently was as obscure as the boys' motive for risking so much to aid a girl they say they knew only casually for a few hours.

Unification Sought For Sheriff, County Patrol

Civil Service, Salary Committee Proposes to Combine Departments

A resolution to unify the Outagamie County Sheriff's and Traffic Department under the sheriff and to add two jailers and a juvenile investigator to the sheriff's department is being considered by the county board committee.

Sylvester Esler, chairman of the Civil Service and Salary Committee, said the committee decided Wednesday to ask for the changes but will not draft a resolution until after a meeting Wednesday with the Traffic Police and Radio Committee.

A proposal to join the sheriff's department and traffic department under the sheriff was defeated twice at the November annual meeting of the County Board.

That proposal would have joined the two departments, which are now independent, replaced the job of undersheriff with a civil service post of chief deputy and added seven men to the department.

Delay Draft

It was decided to delay drafting a new resolution until after the meeting with the traffic committee. Esler said after discussion turned to the function of the two committees, now responsible for the sheriff's department and traffic department.

Esler explained that there is a need for a parks committee and it was suggested that one of the committees now dealing with law enforcement could become a park committee. The other committee then would be responsible for the unified sheriff and traffic department.

Within the two departments the two schools of thought on the proposed unification question of members indicates, in general, the sheriff's department.

New Bids Asked For Riverside Park Shelter

1961 Procedure Was Improper; Summer Completion Sought

KAUKAUNA — The health and recreation committee will ask the Kaukauna council to readvertise for bids for a Riverside Park shelter.

The council originally sought bids last year but the city attorney ruled the bidding procedure was improper because separate bids should have been sought on fireplaces and kitchen fixtures. Those items will not be included in the new specifications but the committee may advertise for them later depending on money available.

The committee wants bids submitted by 7 p.m. March 1. It hopes construction work can be started as soon as weather permits so the shelter will be available to most of the summer season. The council has provided $18,000 in the 1962 budget for park outlays including the shelter.

The committee also recommended that Joseph Jensen, Kaukauna contractor, be given a $180 contract to put up entrance signs at LaFollette Park. Similar signs were installed at Riverside Park last year.

The committee has asked for a telephone at the park maintenance shop.

Perennial Surplus Problem for Village

CAUSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — This Hudson Valley village has a perennial surplus problem. Last year, the village had a surplus of $100,000. A state audit for the years 1958-61 noted in each year general fund revenues were in excess of expenditures, resulting in operating surpluses.

Teachers participating will be Miss Theodosia Brzezinski, Miss Pauline Gaertner, and coaches coached by Black Lawrence Witzke and Eugene Vanden Heuvel.

Strike Enters Second Day at Pierce Auto

No Progress Seen, As Federal Mediator Called Into Talks

No progress in settling a day-old strike of employees of the Pierce Auto Body Shop Inc. 315 S. Pierce Ave. was reported after talks Wednesday.

Negotiations between members of Teamsters Local 563 and representatives of the company were broken off Tuesday and the plant was struck early Wednesday morning.

In Wednesday night's negotiations at the Conway Hotel, a tentative date for a meeting with a labor mediator representatives of the union and the company was established. The date will be confirmed later by the labor mediator Douglas Ogilvie, company president said in a statement today.

Teamster Secretary Treasurer Robert Schlieve said today "no progress" was gained through Wednesday's talks but he said the union was willing to conduct further discussions with the company.

Organized Since November

In calling the strike Wednesday Schlieve said the union believed the company was unfair in hours worked wages and fringe benefits. The Teamsters have been organized in the company since November. Fifty-four of the company's 67 employees were engaged in picketing.

In a statement issued by Ogilvie before Wednesday's talks, he said the company had made five major proposals to the union on wages and fringe benefits. Ogilvie said all five had been rejected by the union.

Ogilvie said in his statement the last wage offer to the union was for a 21 cent increase over a two-year period. That offer too was rejected by the union, Ogilvie said.

Schlieve said the union is asking for a 3-hour reduction in the work week to 40 hours, eliminating five hours of overtime, wage adjustment, to non-out inequities in the wage scales and a close examination of the fringe benefits.

Labor discussions between the company and the union have been in progress since December. Wednesday's meeting was the 10th discussion in the series.

The 17 fund raising dinners will be the Republicans' first big rally of the new year—a congressional election year in which they hope to cut deeply into Democratic majorities in the House and Senate. Party leaders have said this won't be easy.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton R-Ky, former GOP national chairman, pointed to two weak spots in party armor Wednesday in a speech before a Young Republicans national leadership conference in a suburban Virginia motel.

First he said the Republicans lack a strong organization in the big cities. This has been pointed out many times by Republicans since President Kennedy's narrow victory in 1960.

Next Morton said the Democrats, led by Kennedy, have outmaneuvered Republicans on many levels and we are being placed in the position of being again everything.

Still Found In Green Bay Food Store

GREEN BAY — State Agents today staged a raid at Jack Kaufman's Food Market, 1405 Cedar St., and found a still and an undetermined quantity of illicit liquor.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Richard G. Greenwood said he accompanied James Webster, supervising agent of the State Beverage Tax Division, and four other state agents in the raid.

Greenwood, who was still on the scene at 12:30 this afternoon directing the tagging of evidence, said that John L. Kaufman, who operates the small grocery store, has been arrested.

A search warrant allowing the state agents to raid the store was issued about 11 a.m. today by Circuit Judge Donald W. Gleason.

The store had been under surveillance by state agents for some time.

The still included a five-gallon container. All evidence was loaded into trucks this afternoon and taken to the police department. Accompanying the investigators was Detective Sgt. Leo Knowles.

At least five persons died early today in a general alarm fire in a three-story rooming house in South Providence.

Two of the victims were identified as Mrs. Virginia Davis and her eight-year-old daughter, Mildred. The others were not identified, including one man who jumped from the roof.

It was the second fire tragedy in New England this week. Nine persons perished in a blaze at Black Lawrence Witzke and Eugene Vanden Heuvel.

Time Systems Clinic Talk Today

William Dreier, manager of industrial engineering for Micro-Switch Division of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., Freeport, Ill., will talk at the second session of a clinic on predetermined time systems today.

The four-session clinic is sponsored by the Fox Valley Chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management. Dreier will discuss "The Increasing Obsolescence of Stop Watch Standards."

Sessions are open to non-members as well as SAM members. The program begins at 7 p.m. at the Institute of Paper Chemistry auditorium.

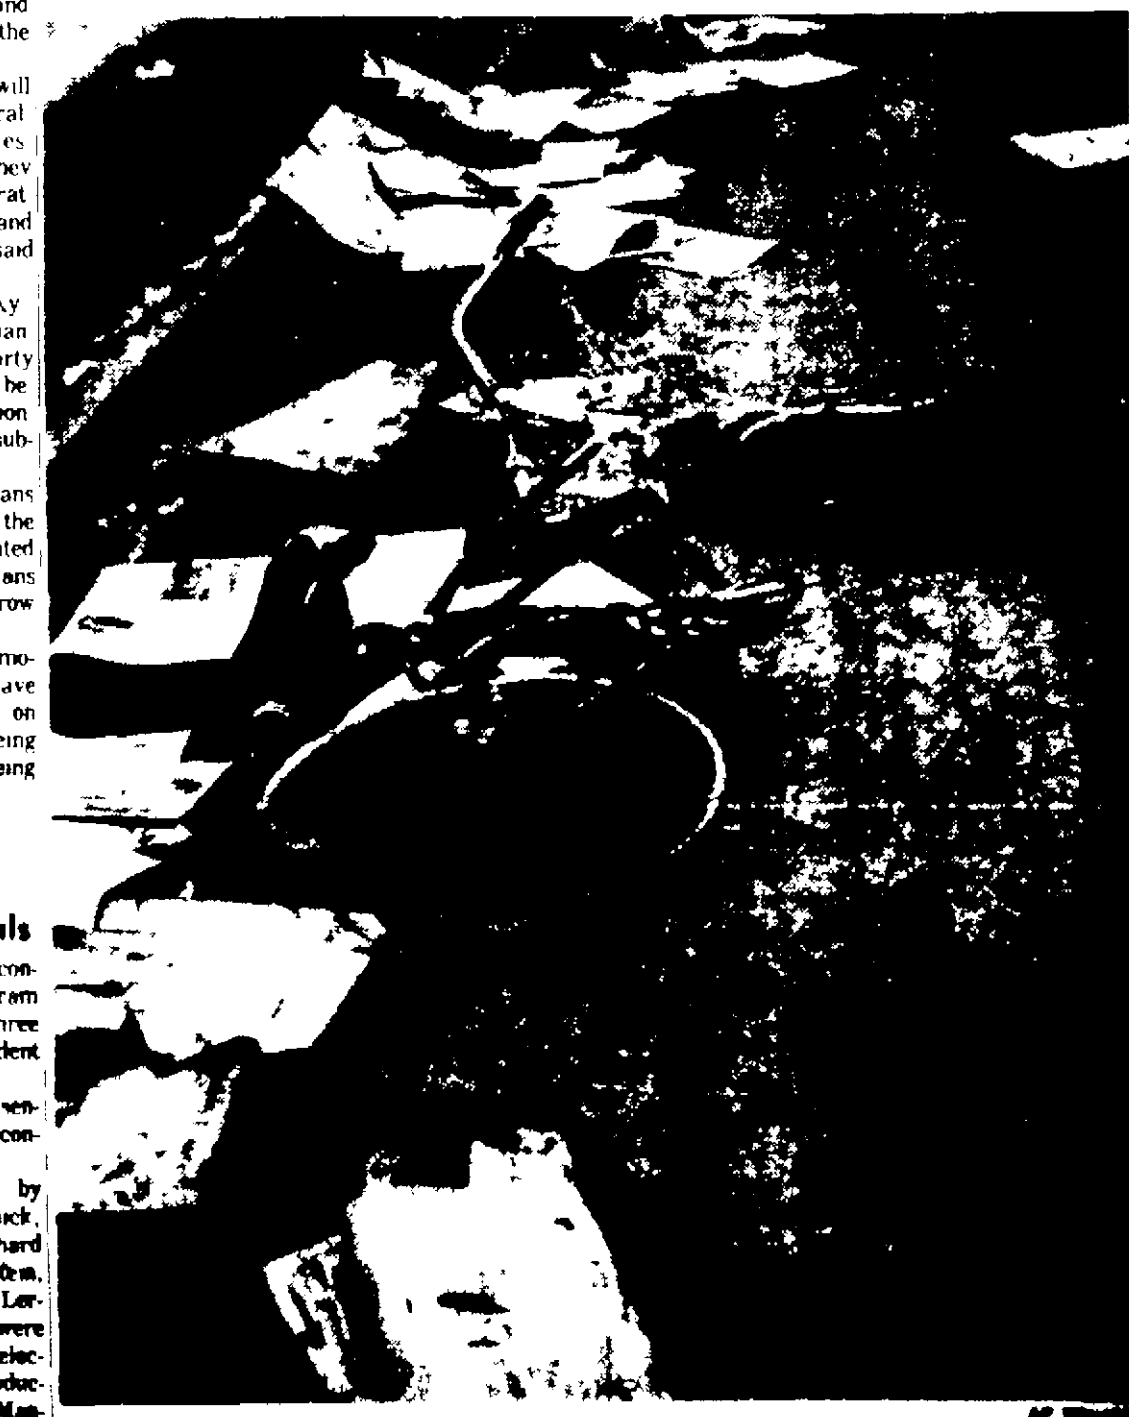

Thieves Well-Laden After Change Robbery

NEW YORK (AP) — The pair who held up a vending machine firm Wednesday and escaped with $4,500, had to be well-matched.

The robbers lined up the manager and employees of the Coleman Vending Machine Co., and then struggled off with the loot—all in nickels, dimes and quarters.

Sales Tax Day Arrives Quietly in Fox Cities; Last Minute Rush Ends

Furniture Dealer Welcomes Drop in Business; Few Complaints

Sales Tax Day arrived quietly morning — and I welcome it. In the Fox Cities, customers handed over their pennies without a struggle. Most just grin and say nothing reported one retail store manager.

Clerks and managers did their best to avoid—or hide—confusion over which items are or are not taxable.

Banks prepared for a rush on pennies, which hadn't gotten underway by noon today.

Dealers Relax

Car furniture and appliance dealers relaxed after an onslaught of buyers beating the sales tax deadline.

"Things are very slow this morning," said one furniture store owner. "We'll be busy delivering for the next three weeks."

The Post-Crescent received a call from a woman wanting to know if it would run a list of taxable items. When told it had been run several times already, she laughed. "I must have missed it—but things seem more urgent now that the tax is here."

Heart Fund Campaign Starts Today

Appleton joins today with 10,000 other communities across the nation to launch the 1962 Heart Fund campaign.

A goal of $6,460 has been set for Appleton. Marwin Wrostad, 66 S. Meadows Drive, who heads this year's drive in Appleton. The state-wide goal is $616,000.

Wrostad said the first activities during the month-long campaign will be the special gifts solicitation today through Feb. 15 and business and professional solicitation today through Tuesday.

The climax of the campaign will be Heart Sunday Feb. 25 when a house-to-house canvass will be made in residential areas of Appleton.

Nomination Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday approved President Kennedy's nomination of Nathan S. Heffernan of Madison as U.S. Attorney for the Western District of Wisconsin.

State Tax Commissioner John Gronouski had his own troubles this morning as he dug for a penny to pay the tax on his two for a quarter cigars at the state office building concession counter. Proprietor James Slotten, right, is blind.

Parallel Parking Sought on Some Streets in Neenah

Merchants, Chamber Officials Invited to Attend Presentation

NEENAH — Parallel parking on certain areas of Wisconsin Avenue will be recommended to night by a special committee named to study traffic recommendations of Kenneth L. Schellie and Associates, Indianapolis planning firm.

The formal presentation will be made by the committee at 7:30 p.m. in the squad room of the police station. Members of the committee are Ald. Warren Sanders and Carl Coenen, and Police Chief Irving Stip.

Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and interested merchants have been invited to attend the session, according to City Clerk R. V. Hauser.

In his letter of invitation, Hauser pointed out that "the recommendations will be mostly on changes in the signaling of various traffic lights, especially one located at Wisconsin Avenue and Commercial Street."

The recommendations are "all so relative to crosswalks at the (Neenah) theater and the Jandrey Co., necessitating some changes in parking whereby parallel parking will be resorted to at these crosswalks."

The committee will submit recommendations that some parking on Commercial Street be eliminated, Hauser said.

"They are deferring any recommendation at this time on one-way streets, as suggested by the report."

Drivers Blame Icy Roads For Crashes

Two Say They Were Injured in Neenah Street Accidents

NEENAH — Slippery streets were blamed by motorists for a majority of the accidents reported to police Wednesday.

Edwin A. Timm, 54, 921 Higgins Ave., suffered a bruised left knee and cut inside the lower lip when a car he was driving collided with a car operated by Roy E. Klatt, 59, 117 Elm St., at 4:37 p.m. Wednesday.

Timm was taken to Theda Clark hospital by a police squad car. The accident occurred at the intersection of Byrd Avenue and the Marathon driveway.

Mrs. Viola M. Williams complained of a sore neck after the car she was driving collided at 1:10 p.m. Wednesday at North Lake and Main Streets with the auto of Marion A. McCurry, 33, 227 N. State St., Appleton.

Autos driven by Walter W. Fisher, 36, 1806 W. Highland Ave., Appleton, and John G. Kofler, 22, route 2, Neenah, collided at 9:27 p.m. Wednesday on S. Commercial Street. A parked car owned by Edward S. Meyer, 48, 631 Higgins Ave., was damaged when it was struck by the Kofler vehicle.

Laudan Boulevard and Reed Street was the scene of an accident involving cars operated by Richard F. Riedhauser, 50, 206 Division Street, and Burton E. Belling, 41, 222 Grant Street. The mishap occurred at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Kermit K. Maynard, 44, 220 Lennox Ave., and Monroe A. Schneider, 42, 207 Filmore St., Kaukauna, were drivers of cars involved in a collision at 4:40 p.m. Wednesday at S. Doty Avenue and Martens Street.

Drivers Receive Minor Injuries

NEENAH — Two drivers were bruised and shaken up in a collision of their cars at Plank Road and Kenomac Street at 9:43 p.m. Wednesday.

They are William Buysyk, 31, 853 Sheboygan St., and Thomas H. Schutkowski, 23, 639 Manitowish St., neither of whom needed treatment.

Cars of Fredric R. Flom, 21, 346 Park St., and Robert Porath, 38, 741 State St., collided at Eighth and DePere streets at 7:31 p.m. Wednesday.

At 7:51 a.m. today, autos driven by Mrs. Frederick Heiss, 320 W. North Water St., Neenah, and James Sell, 28, 320 E. Wilson St., Appleton, collided at Appleton Road and DePere Street.

The pair admitted taking 14 automobile radiators from the Appleton Wrecking Co., route 2, Appleton, late in December, and then taking 11 road equipment radiators from Badger Highways, Inc., Ninth Street yard on Jan. 19.

They were traced through a milk truck they were using to haul the radiators from Badger Highways and had to abandon when spotted by Glen Gillen, 719 Third St., Menasha, watchman at the yard.

Judge Cane had sentenced them to consecutive terms at Green James Sell, 28, 320 E. Wilson St., Bay Reformatory of one year on Appleton, collided at Appleton Road and DePere Street.

Menasha's Eligible Voters 6,360, Clerk Announces

NEENAH — Eligible voters total 6,360, City Clerk Harry Kind announced this morning. The figure is not final, since registration will not close until Feb. 23, 10 days before the spring primary election.

The new registration figures have been compiled from the voters signed up from the former five wards of the city. Last year, wards were realigned and one added.

Registrations by wards are First, 1,055; Second, 1,082; Third, 1,110; Fourth, 1,049; Fifth, 1,235 and Sixth, 829.

Sixth Ward was created to be short on population in the near future. Since the area has the greatest potential for growth, its population is expected to approach the other wards.

Beginning His Duties today as the new superintendent of the Winnebago County Hospital and Pleasant Acre Home is William Vogel, right, shown with his wife and their son, Bobby, who is almost two years old. Vogel was assistant administrator of the Milwaukee County Hospital.

W. O. Vogel Takes Over as Hospital Head

OSHKOSH — William O. Vogel, 35, today began his duties as the new superintendent of the Winnebago County Hospital and Pleasant Acre Home. He succeeds Clarence Ward who had resigned in September.

Elmer Erickson has been acting superintendent during the interim period.

Vogel has been assistant administrator of the Milwaukee County Hospital, going there in 1957 from St. Luke's Methodist Hospital at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he had been an administrative assistant from June, 1956, to July, 1957.

He attended the University of Iowa where he received a bachelor degree in business administration and a master degree in hospital administration.

Vogel was a jet aircraft pilot in the Air Force from 1951 to 1955. He is married and has a son, Bobby.

2 Kaukauna Men Get Probation on Theft Charges

OSHKOSH — Two brothers from Kaukauna, Arthur F. Knott, 27, 442 W. Seventh St., and Albert W. Knott, 23, 315 W. Tenth St., were placed on probation for two years this morning by County Judge Arnold J. Cane for stealing radiators from two firms.

The pair admitted taking 14 automobile radiators from the Appleton Wrecking Co., route 2, Appleton, late in December, and then taking 11 road equipment radiators from Badger Highways, Inc., Ninth Street yard on Jan. 19.

They were traced through a milk truck they were using to haul the radiators from Badger Highways and had to abandon when spotted by Glen Gillen, 719 Third St., Menasha, watchman at the yard.

Blue Inn Spent $1,911 in 1961 for Community Projects

MENASHA — During 1961, the Blue Inn, teenage group, sponsored and guided by the last year, the Blue Inn received the Parents' Magazine gold plaque for youth group achievements. The Twin City News-Record will nominate the youth group this year for its 1961 program.

Major civic expenditures last year were $200 for scholarships for needy students, at St. Mary and Menasha high schools; $150 to Winnebago County Guidance Center for equipment; $200 for reconditioning and repair of equipment in the Memorial Building game room; $150 to the Community Chest; $150 to the Christmas Giving committee; $60 for needy children's shoes.

$75 to Menasha High School Student Senate to help pay expenses for a foreign exchange student; $50 to the March of Dimes; $165 for expenses of attending last year's governor's conference on children and youth; $150 for a wheelchair for former member Robert Adams, who was paralyzed in a diving accident; $26 for needy children's toys; $14 for expenses of Christmas carolers; and $40 for Junior American Legion baseball uniforms.

The social expenditures were $138 for the Blue Inn Ball, $50 for awards to officers and $70 for a banquet for officers and directors and Park and Recreation Board members.

U.N. Space Committee About Ready to Tackle Big Backlog of Work

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The 24-nation U.N. committee on the peaceful uses of outer space seems likely to convene March 5 to tackle its two-year-old backlog of work.

Diplomatic sources said nearly all committee members had agreed to a meeting that day, but that Soviet delegate Valerian A. Zorin was still waiting to hear if his government would agree.

The committee, set up by the 1959 General Assembly, has done little to carry out the work of promoting international cooperation in space research that was given to it by 1959 and 1961 assembly resolutions. It was hampered by a Communist boycott that ended only last November.

College Grad at 16, Girl No 'Egg-Head'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mary Jane Hollingsworth says she is no egg-head—even if she was graduated by the University of Miami at 16.

An alumna of Hillcrest High in Greenville, S.C., the 3-foot-2 blonde left high school after the ninth grade and entered Bob Jones University at Greenville. In the summer of 1960 she transferred to the University of Miami and completed the standard 4-year course in 2½ years. She majored in sciences, especially psychology.

Now she is aiming at a master's degree.

Finest $25, Costs for Hitting CP Victim

OSHKOSH — Richard J. Flasch, 18, Fond du Lac, was fined $25 by County Judge Arnold J. Cane this morning after he pleaded no contest to a disorderly conduct charge.

Flasch was arrested shortly after 11 p.m. Wednesday by Oshkosh police after knocking down a blonde left high school after the ninth grade and entered Bob Jones University at Greenville. In the summer of 1960 she transferred to the University of Miami and completed the standard 4-year course in 2½ years. She majored in sciences, especially psychology.

Now she is aiming at a master's degree.

ColC Prepares Committees

Assignment List To Be Released When Completed

NEENAH — Sub-committee assignments were discussed Wednesday evening at a meeting attended by leaders of the Congressional Action Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Neenah-Menasha.

Present at the meeting were Maynard Bernstein and John Galloway, co-chairmen of the committee; Robert Matt, editor of the group's Action - Report Bulletin, and John Kowad, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Galloway has taken the position formerly held by W. D. McGuire, who recently resigned as co-chairman.

Although a tentative list of appointments was drawn up at the session, all appointees have not yet been contacted, Kowad said today. The list will be released as soon as all committeemen have accepted their assignments.

CAC sub-committees include inflation and spending control; tax reform; labor legislation; federal controls of business and agriculture; federal intervention in state and local affairs; and social security expansion.

Expect 145 at State Paper Group Dinner

MENASHA — About 145 representatives of Wisconsin paper mills and converters who are members of the Wisconsin Paper Group will meet for the 28th annual luncheon meeting of this cooperative shipping organization at the Valley Inn Saturday noon.

Ben W. Heintzman, chairman of the Chicago and North Western Railway Co., will be principal speaker. Prior to the speech of the nationally-known Wisconsin-born transportation executive, members will elect officers for 1962 and hear the reports of A. R. Hedlund, treasurer, and Irwin Pearson, executive secretary, covering 1961 operations.

The Paper Group was organized in 1934. Now 35 firms are banded together to provide maximum customer service and take advantage of freight savings resulting from the pool car method of distribution.

Grace Lutheran Parish Votes to Build New School

NEENAH — The congregation of Grace Lutheran Church voted to erect a school building attached to the church at its meeting Tuesday evening.

The school will have three classrooms, an assembly room that can be used as a small gymnasium and an office. Two teachers will be employed.

Completion date is set for Sept. 1, 1962. The cost is estimated at slightly less than $100,000. Architects are Irion and Reiske of Oshkosh.

Beautification Group Sees Summer Program

NEENAH — Purchase of a small wagon and hiring a high school student on a part-time basis for flowerbox watering this summer were approved Wednesday by the Chamber of Commerce's beautification committee.

Committee Chairman Donald Hruska reported the committee decided to plant another 26 trees on both sides of Wisconsin Avenue in Neenah to complete the decorated strip between the Valley Inn and Bergstrom Paper Co.

The wagon and student would be used to keep the flowerboxes in good condition by regular attention in downtown Neenah and Menasha, the inland shopping district in Neenah and Shore Lane in Neenah, if the last area joins in the flowerbox effort.

The committee voted to buy trees from Pansy Nursery, same supplier as last year, first effort in downtown trees. Pansy was second-low bidder among the local nurseries, said Hruska.

The committee will begin a fund-raising effort among merchants in April to finance the flowerboxes in their fourth season.

Other committee members are Ambrose Owen, treasurer, Susan Lundberg, secretary, Wayne Bryan, Mrs. Harold Young, Dallas Patterson, Earl Pantton, Roy Verhoven, Gerald Plier, Lorinda and Alice Tews, Loree Jeske.

Oshkosh College Adds to Staff for Spring Semester

OSHKOSH — Three new faculty members made their appearances on the Oshkosh State College campus this week as the college began its spring semester.

Joining the faculty as an assistant professor of economics and business administration is Irving H. Wallace. Prof. Wallace earned his bachelor degree in 1939 and master's in 1948 from the University of Minnesota, a place where he is completing his doctoral study. He has taught at the University of Minnesota, Augsburg College, and Pennsylvania State University. He also has extensive commercial experience.

James E. Simmons joined the English department as an instructor. He earned his bachelor's degree from the University of California in 1959, and his master's from the University of Wisconsin in 1960. His chief interests are in 17th Century literature and modern English fiction.

James P. Smyth, Milwaukee food broker and a rural Sheboygan resident, today announced his candidacy for Congress from the Sixth District as a Republican. He is seeking the post and place on the ballot now held by Rep. William K. Van Pelt, Fond du Lac.

Smyth said he intends to make an attempt "to alert my fellow countrymen to the need for retarding the unrestrained acceleration and encouragement of the 'something-for-nothing' philosophy in our government in recent years."

He also called for a re-evaluation and re-determination of the massive foreign aid program, particularly with reference to the "direct and indirect doles to Communist-controlled countries."

Smyth, his wife and six children live on a family-owned tree farm near Sheboygan. He served during World War II with the Marine Corps for five years, two years in the South Pacific and was discharged as a master sergeant.

Inquest Set in Death of Trucker

OSHKOSH — An inquest into the traffic death last Thursday night of John Przybylski, 38, Stevens Point, a substitute truck driver for the Dahlman Trucking Co. of Stevens Point, will be held Monday, Feb. 12, Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber announced.

Przybylski was standing on the running board of his semitrailer along the shoulder of U.S. 41 in the Town of Algoma while a fellow truck driver, Norman Gorski, 32, route 1, Junction City, also employed by the Dahlman firm, was inside the cab working on the headlight switch.

A semi-trailer truck driven by Carl Krueger, 39, 212 N. Rankin St., Appleton, struck the rear of the parked Przybylski truck and then the side of the cab, crushing Przybylski.

Public Payroll Continues Its Steady Growth

Fastest Growing
Union Today That of Municipal Workers

WASHINGTON — The fastest growing affiliate of the AFL-CIO is the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. Its president, Arnold S. Zander, a Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin, reports a membership of about 220,000.

The fastest growing payroll in the country today is the public payroll, particularly at the state, county and municipal level.

(Workers for the Outagamie County Highway Department are members of the AFL-CIO unit. Appleton's Street and Sanitation Department workers belong to the Teamsters.)

In the Department of Labor's analysis of the labor force, the number of workers on all public payrolls shows an increase from 8,980,000 in December, 1960, to 9,075,000 in November, 1961, and 9,311,000 in December, 1961.

Thus, in a single month, the public payrolls of this country added 226,000 workers.

Others Level
Between December, 1960, and December, 1961, the number of workers in other categories of private industry was relatively stagnant.

Workers engaged in mining declined in number during that period from 682,000 to 663,000.

Workers on contract construction dropped from 2,630,000 to 2,579,000.

The number employed in wholesale and retail trade stood still in the neighborhood of 12,100,000. So also did the total number of workers in transportation and public utility work, who total about 3,900,000.

Workers in the manufacturing industries increased relatively little in the one year period, from 16,213,000 to 16,564,000.

But the public payrolls keep going up, with no ceiling in sight.

Blind Woman Who Won Right to Keep Son, Suffers Heart Attack

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Georgia Hathaway, a deaf and blind woman on whose fight to keep her child attracted widespread attention six years ago, is recovering from a heart attack in Akron General Hospital.

The hospital relaxed its rules on children's visiting rights to allow Mrs. Hathaway's son, Clarence, who will be 7 on Feb. 17, to visit her. Clarence is the eyes and ears of his mother, who is 43, and father, Harold Hathaway, 60, who also is deaf and blind. The couple in 1955 won a court fight to prevent a welfare agency from placing Clarence in a foster home.

Mrs. Hathaway need no longer stay in an oxygen tent and is able to sit in a chair three times a day and feed herself.

Sometimes the Worm Turns and Turns...

WASHINGTON — The agriculture department is bragging about a dirty trick it played on the unsuspecting Florida screwworm.

"The threat of screwworm invasion has been eliminated," says a department press release. "No screwworms have been found in Alabama, Georgia or Florida for more than a month."

The government's pride in its accomplishment is pardonable. But this is how it went about it:

Federal agents reared millions of screwworms in a laboratory, sterilized them and released them in infected areas. The sterile males mated with the local females, whose eggs consequently failed to hatch. Pretty soon — no more screwworms.

Maybe Even Gift Certificates

She Wants to Ship Our Catalogs to All Lands

BY JAMES M. BASWELL
Chicago Daily News Service
WASHINGTON — People in other lands would just love to order from an American mail order catalog, Rep. Martha W. Griffiths (D-Mich.) reports.

She returned recently from a round-the-world survey of American exports needs.

"Too many Americans don't appreciate the big foreign markets they can reach now," she said. "Wherever I went people wanted American goods. People went out of their way to buy American soft drinks, American lipsticks and to see American movies."

They'd buy American cars, too, if their own tariffs would let them. But Falcons cost $3,000 and Thunderbirds cost $13,000 to $25,000."

During the last foreign aid debate in Congress, Mrs. Griffiths said jokingly she'd favor giving out $2 gift certificates and mail order catalogs written in the language of the country.

But in places like Argentina and Thailand, the U. S. consuls didn't think this too funny. "It might be just what we need," said one. "People have to see something to want it. The mail order catalogs, the dime stores and the supermarkets play a great part in American prosperity by creating a popular demand."

"I think it is better to send out goods than to send out money."

I think we should see that the rest of the world is equipped to buy American goods," said Mrs. Griffiths.

Starts Right Here
Some of our trouble is right at home, she thinks.

"I get repeated complaints on my trip that American firms don't answer mail from abroad," she said. "In Bangkok I was told of a firm that lost a $17 million order. The order was sent on plain paper without a business firm letterhead, and of course it was written in the language of the country."

"The American firm which received it didn't bother to have the letter translated, apparently. 'I was told that American firms don't ship fast enough. It takes six months to get an American order filled in some countries. There aren't enough American firms interested. (Only 12,000, the state department says, out of 300,000.) We should send

Charitable Groups Must Register in State by March 31

MADISON (AP)—Charitable organizations collecting contributions in Wisconsin must file reports with the state by March 31 showing funds received in 1961. Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds held Wednesday.

The requirement was imposed by a law that became effective Nov. 4, 1961. Secretary of State Robert Zimmerman's office, charged with administering the law, had asked Reynolds to clarify the date of the act's effectiveness.

Reynolds also pointed out that all charitable groups, except veteran organizations, must register with the secretary before they solicit and must pay a $5 fee.

The attorney general noted that organizations which have a fiscal year differing from the calendar year may seek permission to defer their report until 90 days after the close of their fiscal year.

10 Fined for Sit-in Roles

Chicago Schools Hit by Protesters of Segregation

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten sit-in demonstrators against alleged racial discrimination in housing for University of Chicago students were found guilty of trespassing and given suspended fines Wednesday but another group then took up the demonstration and was arrested.

The 10 had been arrested Friday at the University Realty Management Office, which manages housing property owned by the University.

Judge Joseph J. Butler of Women's Court said he supported the "need to fight this evil we call segregation" but held the demonstrators were "stopping the complaint from an orderly conduct of his business" by staging a sit-in on the premises.

He fined them $10 each but suspended the fines because they had spent time in jail.

However, a few hours later nine more pickets appeared at the office and were arrested on trespassing charges.

Meanwhile there were these developments in the controversy over alleged segregation in Chicago's public schools.

Other Action

Negro parents opposing the transfer of children from Burnside to Gillespie school lost a court fight to halt the action. Judge Richard B. Austin of U.S. District Court said he could see no reason why the 12 children involved would suffer irreparable injury.

A sit-in developed at the Park school where 16 Negro mothers and a minister demonstrated against the use of a trailer classroom.

The Chicago Urban League issued a highly critical statement about Schools Supt. Benjamin S. Willis' reports on vacant classrooms.

The Temporary Woodlawn Organization sent "truth squads" to several South Side schools to check for empty classrooms.

The Negro demonstrators contend that schools in Negro districts are overcrowded and that space is available in schools in neighboring districts that are predominantly white. The Board of Education disputes this claim.

Unification Urged by Committee

is for unification, the traffic department is against it.

At present, Sheriff Robert Heinritz is in charge of criminal investigation, operation of the jail and serving legal papers, such as warrants.

Decker Head

Capt. Ronald Decker heads the traffic department, which, although housed in the same office, is a separate unit. County patrolmen, however, are deputy sheriffs and as such are authorized to handle police work in addition to traffic duties.

Sheriff Heinritz said, "Common sense is the basic reason for unifying the departments. A divided body can't operate as well as one unit. There is constant friction, dissention and inefficiency."

"The sheriff is responsible to protect the people day and night," he added.

He said at present he has no authority to direct night police protection unless he hires more investigators.

He said the two investigators in the department are "only human and can't work day and night."

"In general, policeman should handle all police work, traffic and criminal. The county patrolmen seem to think they can be policeman when they want to be and traffic men when they want to be."

He said he favors having uniformed patrolmen make spot checks at taverns that may be trouble spots. He also would require patrolmen to fill out a log of what they do during their shift. He would require them to check doors at rural business places, and record such things as license numbers of suspicious cars in the area.

Against Plan

Capt. Ronald Decker said he doesn't feel uniting the departments is necessary. "We're doing all right as it is. We are able to handle the traffic end of the situation and we take night calls on the other matters (bar fights, family troubles, etc.)."

"We do as much as we can with the help we have, but we are primarily a traffic department."

Patrick Heenan, chairman of the traffic and radio committee, said, "I don't think anything is being passed by or handled in a haphazard manner. There is a certain amount of cooperation. In case of trouble I know the county police have been cooperative."

Death Keeps Date With Worker on His Day of Retirement

BALDWIN PARK, Calif. — Claude Buzard, 70, had a certain date circled in red on the calendar at work.

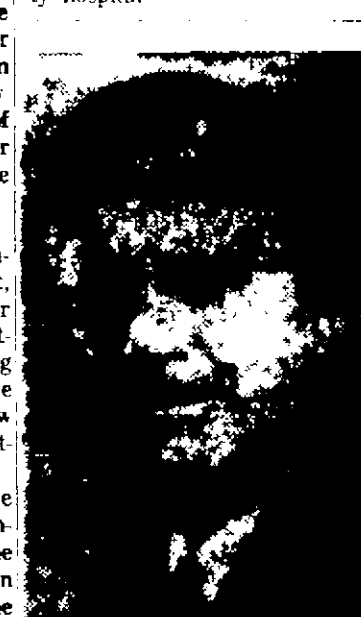

The date was yesterday — Jan. 31 — and below it Buzard had written, "This is it."

He referred to his retirement — his last day on the job as a vehicle maintenance man for the California Highway Patrol.

His fellow workers at the Baldwin Park station were planning a party. Coffee and cake were ready and there was a fishing rod for his retirement gift.

Buzard's son, Patrolman Fred Buzard, had arrived from Pomona for the occasion.

But when they went to summon Buzard to the party, they found him slumped over a desk beneath the marked calendar. He was gasping from a heart attack and died a few minutes later at San Gabriel community hospital.

R. W. Bardwell, retired director of the Madison School of Vocational and Adult Education, has been chosen chairman of the new Governor's Commission on the Aging, set up under an act of the 1961 legislature.

Appleton Kiwanians Turned out Wednesday to honor Police Chief Walter J. Hendricks and Fire Chief Alfred Arnold, both of whom have announced their retirement. From left, standing, are Helm Hussner, George Dame, police and fire commission chairman, who spoke at the luncheon meeting, and Jerome Capitaine, president of the Northside Kiwanis Club. Seated are Hendricks and Arnold.

Police End Milwaukee Youths' Joyride, Spree

NEW LONDON — Two Milwaukee youths are being held in Waupaca County jail after spending Wednesday joyriding in two stolen automobiles.

One car was stolen in Clintonville and later damaged in an accident while being chased by New London police. The pair is being held pending an investigation.

The New London police had received a stolen car report from Clintonville police and were waiting for the car at the intersection of U.S. 45 and State 54. They gave chase and were a short distance behind the car when the youths attempted to pass a truck on N. Shawano Street, sideswiped another car, then knocked down a stop sign at the intersection of N. Water Street and Shawano Street.

Hepatitis Seems To be Checked

Public Health Nurse Says Some Hilbert Cases 'Negative'

CHILTON — Mrs. Lois Wilcox, Calumet County public health nurse, said Wednesday that the recent infectious hepatitis outbreak in the Hilbert area is "temporarily checked."

Several suspected cases under observation turned up negative, Mrs. Wilcox said. She added, however, that at least two other suspected cases are still being closely watched.

Two schools in the village were the sites of special inoculation clinics last week when the state board of health authorized a shipment of the special protective serum after five confirmed cases of infectious hepatitis turned up among grade school children.

Four of the five victims of the contagious liver disease were members of the village elementary school basketball team.

Young TV Quiz Ace Wins Talent Contest

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert E. Strom, 15, who won a total of $242,600 on television quiz shows when he was 11 years old, is one of 40 high school seniors named national winners Wednesday in the annual talent search.

Strom, of the Bronx High School of Science, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Strom.

The science talent search is financed by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation. Winners get stepped away from her desk on an all-expense trip to Washington where they will compete for $34,250 in scholarships and awards.

Red Feather Drive 'Not Big Success,' Will Limit Services

UCS Hears Annual Report; Elects Directors; Barney New President

The 1961 Red Feather campaign, during 1961, Heiden cannot be called a big success, said, was a study of the Visiting Nurse Association made at the en said at the annual meeting of association's request. Fourteen United Community Services Wednesday. Because it failed to reach its goal the nine UCS agencies will not be able to provide all the services needed during 1962, he said.

The campaign raised $154,000, which was four per cent more than the amount raised last year, but $8,853 short of the goal.

Sixteen board members were elected at the meeting and the annual report entitled "Your United Community Services Is

Thick Fog Holds In California

SPRINGFIELD, Calif. (AP)—A thick fog held for at least 20 hours since Sunday, including 11 deaths in a bus-train collision, has created a crisis in Central California.

With visibility zero at times in many of the area's major cities, dozens of schools were closed and motorists were advised to keep off the highways.

The weather bureau said the fog would persist in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys at least until Friday with some local afternoon clearing.

Oldtimers term the fog the worst they've seen in years. Weather experts said it's caused by vaporizing moisture rising from the area's lush agricultural fields. The moisture is the result of a rare snowfall in the central valley last week.

'Enemy' Planes Penetrate Into United Arab Republic

Chicago Daily News Service

CAIRO, U.A.R. — Enemy planes, officially unidentified but believed to be Israeli fighters, last night made their third deep penetration within five days into the United Arab Republic.

As on Saturday and Sunday, they raided the Suez Canal zone, more than 100 miles from Israel. Israel is believed to have drawn fire from the U.A.R.'s Soviet-made anti-aircraft guns. Two more raids, officially unreported, took place recently over Port Said.

Though no bombs are dropped, a war of nerves has begun between U.A.R. and Israel comparable to that between Russia and the United States following the U-2 incident.

Sales Tax Day Arrives Quietly In Fox Cities

year. An additional 500 registrations were expected to be added to the current total as a result of hurried transactions yesterday.

30 Seconds Early

One Madison garage closed a deal for a new auto 30 seconds before the sales tax went into effect.

In future dickering over new cars, one dealer predicted, buyers will try to persuade the dealer to work in the sales tax rather than a radio or floor mats.

State Tax Commissioner John Gronouski was one of the first to scratch through his small change for tax pennies today.

Paying End

Gronouski found himself on the paying end of the new law early this morning when he stepped into the State Office Building's concession center to buy a couple of cigars.

Proprietor Jim Sletten, a blind man who has operated the center for 14 years, waited while Gronouski counted out 26 cents for the two-for-a-quarter smokes.

"There that didn't hurt much," was Sletten's comment when the change was plunked down. Gronouski just chuckled.

In Milwaukee, a general reaction among merchants and customers alike was immediately apparent—they were confused.

At a downtown hotel, a traveler who has visited Wisconsin for years at first flatly refused to pay the sales tax on his breakfast on the grounds that the cashier was engaged in some practical joke.

"Wisconsin wouldn't do a thing like this," he lamented. But he paid.

Board Jammed

And while the State Tax Department at Madison reported only slightly more telephone calls than usual, the Milwaukee Association of Commerce board was jammed.

Lester W. Brann Jr. of the association said that "there is consternation on the part of retailers who have received no determination on some items."

At Eau Claire, an indignant man who said he'd been eating a 30-cent breakfast for years at the same restaurant said he'd been charged 40 cents today with the announcement that "this includes the sales tax."

He wrote a letter, equipment company auto and to the editor, but delivered it by hand to the Eau Claire Leader & Telegram to complain.

Two Injured When Three Cars Collide

Two people received minor injuries at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday in a three-car crash on State 76 three blocks north of U.S. 45.

Mrs. Walter N. Liesch, 41 Hortonville, received an injured left ankle and Barbara Voight, route 2, Shiocton, was in shock as the result of the crash.

Outagamie County Police said a car driven by Thomas Van Straten, 24 Shiocton, collided with a car driven by Ethan R. Busin, 54 Greenville, as the Bosin car pulled out of a driveway.

A car driven by Walter N. Liesch, 41 route 1, Hortonville, struck the rear of the Van Straten car. Both women were in the Liesch car.

Legally Dead

London Waitress Will Have to Sue to Prove She's Alive

LONDON (AP)—The Southwark as far as we are concerned you are legally dead.

"Once a verdict is recorded by a coroner it can only be altered by a higher court. Until a higher court has quashed the verdict I very much regret to say that you must remain dead."

"Fortunately the facts came to light before the body was buried. If it can now be correctly identified this will make it easier for you to get the verdict changed."

Miss McGee, a waitress, said she certainly did not wish to go on being dead and would have the matter legally rectified.

Seven Judges To Seek Terms

Five Seats Have Contests in April 3 Election

MADISON (AP)—Seven circuit court judges will be elected to six-year terms, starting in January 1963, in balloting in Wisconsin April 3. There are contests for five of the seats.

Running without opposition are incumbent judges Herbert A. Bunde of Wisconsin Rapids in the 7th Circuit and Richard Burdwell of Madison in Dane County's 9th Circuit.

In the 25th Circuit, created earlier this month when the state's court reorganization went into effect, Philip O. Owens of Portage and Robert H. Gellmar of Baraboo have filed nomination papers with the Secretary of State's Office. The circuit includes Sauk, Columbia, Marquette and Waushara counties.

Pet Crow May Be Grounded By City Council

KEWAUNEE (AP)—Blackie, a pet crow, may gain the doubtful distinction of being grounded by legislation.

The Kewaunee City Council was drafting an ordinance today to prevent Blackie from leaving the home of its owner, Mrs. Paul Mutchow, and flying around this community of 3,000.

Mrs. Mutchow raised the bird after it had dropped from a nest. It became a family pet. Then it began to swoop around the city. People at first chuckled at the familiar sight of Blackie but they soon became concerned when the bird stole clothing from wash lines, caps from the heads of youngsters and children's toys. In fact, Blackie picked up just about anything that was brightly colored and took it home.

Police chief Lavern Gen wanted to make Mrs. Mutchow liable for her pet's escapades. She refused pointing out that the city had an ordinance which controlled dogs—but none that covered mischievous crows.

The council then decided that it needed an ordinance to cope with Blackie.

State College Faculty Gain Approved for 19 Research Projects

MADISON (AP)—The approval of 19 study and research projects by state college faculty members was announced Wednesday by the State College Board of Regents.

The program will be financed by a 1961 legislative appropriation the first of its kind for the nine state colleges. The Legislature set aside $10,000 for research in the present school year and $40,000 in the next.

Kissiah told the prosecutors at the annual midwinter conference that the crackdown must be a "joint effort by local state and federal law enforcement agencies" if it is to be successful.

The conference continues today.

Shave 6 Strokes Off Par; Ford Trails by One

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Golf's only 90-hole tournament, the $20,000 Palm Springs classic, swung into its second stage today with unheralded Stan Leonard and Rex Baxter Jr., leading the procession.

They scored 65, six strokes under par, in the first round at the Thunderbird Country Club Wednesday.

Baxter, 25, of Amarillo, Tex., is a relative newcomer to the money trail. Leonard, 47, Thursday, has won the Canadian PGA eight times.

One stroke back of the leaders was Doug Ford, recent winner of the Bing Crosby tournament, while two shots back were U.S. Open champion Gene Littler, the winner at San Francisco last Sunday. Lionel Hebert and Jerry Steelsmith.

No. 1 Alternate Baxter figuratively got into the tournament on a pass. He was a No. 1 alternate and got to play only because an older pro, Walter Burkemo, developed a cough in his elbow and had to withdraw.

Three other desert courses are being used to handle the 128 pros and their 384 amateur partners. In something of a game of musical chairs, the pros who played one course Wednesday switch to another today. And so it will go until Sunday for the final round at a fifth course, Bermuda Dunes Country Club.

The 58 group included Mike Sou chak and England's Neal Coles, while the 69 bracket was jammed with prominent players.

Included were Gary Player, Arnold Palmer, both signaling a return to form after a drought of good scores this winter, Jay Hebert and Jimmy Demaret.

Also to be reckoned with was Sam Snead. He had a 70 in his first 1962 tournament.

Even with par 71 was Jack Nicklaus, 1961 amateur champion turned pro. Last year's Palm Springs winner, Billy Maxwell, had a disappointing 73.

Key New MU Athletic Director

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Ed Hickey, now in his fourth year as Marquette University basketball coach, will become the school's director of intercollegiate athletics effective today.

Hickey, whose cage squad is the Jesuit university's last entry in major athletic competition, succeeds Laurence (Moe) Mullins, whose six-year tenure as athletic director ended Wednesday.

Marquette dropped football in 1960 and Mullins already has accepted a position as field representative for the Athletic Institute of Chicago.

LSC Members Win 7 Events In Meet Against Elmhurst

Lawrence swim club members captured seven events in a dual set by Green Bay's Army Canoe club, meet with the Elmhurst YMCA daughter of former Packer star Sunday afternoon at the Lawrence Tony Canoe club in 1960. The old College pool. No team point tabulations were kept.

Nancy Zeumer and Kathy Block finished 1-2 in the 100-yard freestyle event for girls 13 and over. Nancy set a new record with a time of 1:05.8, breaking her own 1959 standard of 1:06.1. Eight Canoe club's time was recorded as swimmers were entered in the event.

Nancy Jayne was the only double winner. She won the 100-yard crawl in 1:17.6 and the 100-yard individual medley in 1:27.6. Both events were in the 11 and 12-year old class.

Daneta Downie turned in a new mark as she won the 50-yard crawl in the 10 and under division. She swam the distance in 1:15.3.

The next Lawrence encounter will be at the Green Bay "Y" Feb. 13.

Clintonville 1 1
New London 1 1
Menasha 1 1
Two Rivers 1 1

Kimberly's junior varsity will have an opportunity to eliminate one of its two chief challengers Friday night when it travels to Clintonville.

The Trucker jayvees are tied with Neenah for second place in the Mid-Eastern JV Conference and a defeat would put them three games behind league-leading Kimberly.

Kimberly chalked up a 70-45 victory over Shawano last week while the junior Trucker were edged by Two Rivers, 40-39, on a last-second basket.

In other games Friday, New London is at Kaukauna, Menasha meets Neenah and Two Rivers travels to Shawano.

NL Expansion Enables Cubs To Show Profit During '61

CHICAGO (AP)—How does the club brought in $425,000 and only major league baseball club turned what would have been a without night games and a record $395,834 deficit into the modest profit of never finishing in the first division in 15 years make money?

Chicago Cub stockholders were told Wednesday that the profit for 1961 operations was $29,166. But a club spokesman pointed out this "report in the black" could be misleading. It took the National League's 1962 expansion program to 12 teams to do it.

Wendorf and Behl Whack 640 Sets

Clarence "Windy" Wendorf and Phil Behl shared Wednesday night bowling honors in Appleton with identical 640 series. Wendorf, who powered a 258 game, matched his aggregate in the Elks Western League.

Behl manufactured his total in the Industrial League at Mahan's. Was Soakal scored a 227 singleton and a 601 set in the Western circuit. Standard (20-22) and Gossaga share the team lead.

Max Kroese posted the best line—a 243—in the Industrial leap. The Kilewatts (48-34) lead.

Kendy Soosness registered a 243 and a 608 for a group of bowlers in the Fraternal League at Mahan's Lanes. The Rotary Club (53-31) leads.

Bob Larken hit a 234 singleton, and Dan Schultz accumulated a 588 set in the Merchants' League at the 41 B.W.I. Larken finished with only a 553 total.

The Guest House Inn (38-28) leads. Western Roger Lyons, 558 and Carl Bauer, 227. Industrial Glen Rohn, 595. Erv Faldutah, 543. John Cannon, 541. Frank Sanders, 573. Don Taylor, 546. John Ploch, 559. and Chuck Brown, 557.

Dick Lundgren Rolls 258 Line And 671 Triple

Dick Lundgren boomed a 258 game and 671 series to pace the 41 Bowl League Monday night. His high game comprised nine strikes, including eight in a row. The Live Wires (38-19) lead the circuit.

Other high scores included a 231 game and 553 series by Jim Greisbach. 588 series by Bob Greisbach and a 560 set by Jim McDaniel.

Rangers Break Losing Streak

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Rangers broke their National Hockey League 10-game losing string—within one game of the 1944 club record—with a 5-0 shutout of the last place Boston Bruins Wednesday night.

It moved them to within one point of fourth place Detroit, which currently holds the last playoff spot. The Red Wings lost to Chicago 4-1 in the league's only other action.

After a two-week layoff for semester exams, the Lawrence College basketball team swings back into Midwest Conference action with a pair of games in three days.

Coach Don Boya's Vikings travel to Cornell College for a Saturday afternoon test then return to their home state to meet Beloit Monday night on the Buck's court.

The Vikes, having snapped their losing string at 11 straight, will be aiming for their first MC victory of the season. Lawrence downed Lakeland College two weeks ago.

Designs on Title
Cornell, which has designs on the conference championship currently in a second place tie with Monmouth, one game behind league leading Grinnell.

The Rams have already defeated the Vikes this season, that on the Lawrence court. Cornell took an 83-70 victory over Lawrence after holding a 49-40 half time lead.

High scoring Dave Adkins paced Cornell in the first game with 20 points. Adkins currently ranks second in the conference scoring race with 163 points for an average of 18.1 per game.

Boya is hoping that Jim Jordan will continue the pre-exam scoring he showed in non conference games against St. Norbert and Lakeland. Jordan swished 24 against the Green Knights and followed up that performance with a 21 point spree against Lakeland.

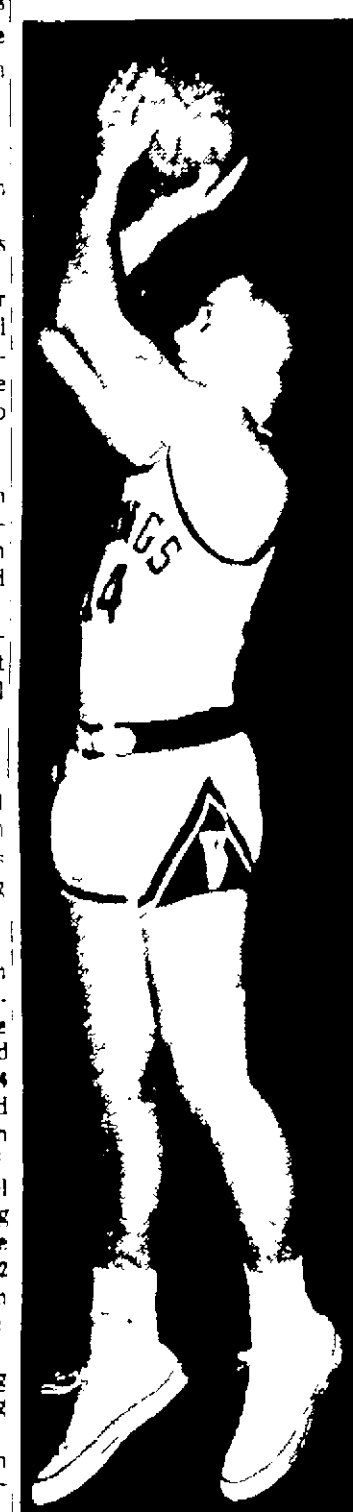

Jordan has closed in on Joel Ungrodt for the team scoring lead. Ungrodt is the current pabe setter with 207 markers in 12 games for a 17.3 average. Jordan has 146 points for a 16.3 average.

No Roster Changes
Boya said he is not expecting any roster changes in the Viking squad at the turn of the semester. Indications are that the team will come through in good scholastic standing from exams which were completed Wednesday.

When the Vikes tackle Beloit Monday night they will be meeting a team that has won three straight going into its Saturday meeting with Ripon. The Bucs, who have jumped to fourth place, scored a 83-59 victory over Lawrence in the first part of the season.

Report Pirates and Cards Want Bob Buhl

Braves May Part With Pitcher For Outfielder

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Just about every club in baseball is looking for a good starting pitcher. So it's not surprising that Bob Buhl's name is being mentioned in trade talks. Buhl, who was the Milwaukee Braves' best pitcher last season, is being sought by the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals.

The latest report is that the Cardinals have made bids for Buhl. The Pirates' strong arm right-hander, Buhl, finished last year with a 10-10 record and a 3.14 ERA. He was named to the All-Star team.

Interested in obtaining an outfielder, the Cardinals are looking for a player who can hit and play the outfield. Buhl, who was the Braves' best pitcher last season, is being sought by the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals.

"Certainly either one would fit into our new pattern of speed," said McHale. "And there's nothing wrong with the caliber of the Pirates' outfield. Every Bob Skinner or the Cardinals' Curt Flood would be a good fit."

McHale has been regarded as "expensive" by the Pirates since hitting only 24 last season. Flood, who hit 30 in 1961, is being sought by the Cardinals.

Two Key FRVC Tilts Scheduled

Friday's Games:
East of Appleton
Manitowoc at West
South of Oshkosh
Fond du Lac at North

Appleton High School entertains Green Bay East Friday night as the Fox River Valley Conference plays its second set of games this week.

Four of the five title contenders are matched in a pair of vital games. Manitowoc will be at Green Bay West and Shelbyville South at Oshkosh. The remaining contender, Fond du Lac, will face Shelbyville North.

Manitowoc's 70-52 victory over South Tuesday night tied the Shipbuilders with the Redmen for the top rung on the FRVC ladder.

Tied for Third
Fond du Lac and West are tied for third place and trail the lead by only one game. Oshkosh, in fifth place, is just two games from first place.

AHS will attempt to duplicate a 57-44 victory scored earlier this season at Green Bay.

Mike Lee led the Terrors in that game with 19 points. Jim Murphy led East with 12.

The Red Devils are a scrappy bunch who have maintained a high level of desire despite their losing season. The team lost two of its five returning lettermen through injury earlier this season but still continues to give their foes a good battle. East lost to Fond du Lac 49-47 Tuesday.

Coach Carl Sunby has been juggling his lineup. Murphy is the only definite starter.

Tom Rein, a sophomore transfer from Fremont, and Ken Krause are sharing the center position. Krause is a senior and playing his first year of varsity ball. Both are 6-4.

The remaining East starters will be selected from Gary Buell, Bob Mangler, Dave Teske, Jerry Kirt and Ted Otto.

East has lost six straight league games since edging North, 53-51, in December.

Terror starters will be chosen from among Lee, Dennis Babb, Dave Hem, Jack Wendt, Jim Swanson, Carl Graves and Gary Hietpas.

Ken Blackman Will Manage Cedar Rapids

CEAR RAPID, Iowa (AP)—Ken Blackman, president of the Three I League when it folded last month, was named manager of Cedar Rapids in the Class D Midwest League today.

Blackman, 50, former minor league catcher, has been both a field manager and business manager of several baseball teams, including Duluth and Fargo-Moorhead. Before heading the Class B Three I League he was a scout for the St. Louis Cardinals and Cleveland Indians.

Cedar Rapids has a working agreement with the Milwaukee Braves.

Texans Sign Jimmy Saxton

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—James Saxton, the All America back from the University of Texas, signed Wednesday to play with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League.

Saxton, also drafted by the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League, is considered small for a pro player. He weighs 165 and is 5 feet 11.

But he is a fast runner who set a record for yardage at the University of Texas with 847 in 1957. He carries for an average of 7.91.

"I can see him as either a flanker back or as a defensive back," said Texan head coach Hank Stram. "You can be certain that we will make every effort to utilize fully a player of Saxton's quickness and speed."

NL Begins Expanded Schedule April 9 at Champs' Crosley Field

8 Holdover Teams To Travel 17,000 More Miles in '62

CINCINNATI (AP)—The National League, operating with more than eight clubs for the first time since 1899, announced today the 162 game schedule for the loop that will spread from coast to coast and as far south as Houston, Tex.

Houston and New York are the new additions to the league. New York was a member of course until the Giants moved to San Francisco several years ago.

With the membership increased from eight to 10 teams and the schedule boosted from 154 to 162 games, there naturally will be more travel and more night baseball.

The schedule calls for 421 night contests as compared with the high of 318 last year for an eight team league. And league officials estimated the addition of Houston and New York to the loop will mean the other eight clubs each will have to travel about 17,000 miles more during the season than last year.

Three Times
Under the 10-team setup each team will visit each other city in the league three times. The only variation from that will be that Philadelphia will be in Cincinnati four times.

The league long has followed the custom that Cincinnati, as home of the first professional baseball team, opens the season at home. So the Phils will be at Crosley Field for a one day stand against the defending league champs on April 9.

All other clubs will begin play on April 10 with the Reds at Los Angeles, New York at St. Louis, Philadelphia at Pittsburgh, Chicago at Houston and Milwaukee at San Francisco.

The second set of home openers will be April 13 with Pittsburgh at New York, Houston at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Chicago and Cincinnati at San Francisco. Milwaukee also will be at Los Angeles on that date.

The long travel distances plus the expanded membership again make for some odd schedule arrangements. For example, New York won't get their first look at their one-time club—the San Francisco Giants—until June 1.

That also is the first date for Cincinnati at Chicago, St. Louis at Milwaukee, Houston at Philadelphia and Los Angeles at Philadelphia.

By the same token, the New York Mets won't be seen at Los Angeles until Aug. 7.

In the night game department, the league will have 421 night contests as compared with the high of 318 last year for an eight team league.

Neenah Moves Up to Second In Cage Ratings

Manitowoc Takes 11th Position On 'Big 16'

The Neenah Rockets, co-leaders of the Mid-Eastern Conference, were rated this morning as the No. 2 high school basketball team in Wisconsin.

The Rockets (13-1) moved up a notch from their third-place spot of last week. Only unbeaten Milwaukee Lincoln is rated ahead of Neenah in the WIAA's "Big 16."

La Crosse Central, which lost to LaCrosse Aquinas last week, dropped from second to sixth place.

Niagara (15-0) remained tops in the Little 16. Brillion, which had been ranked eighth, dropped out of the Little 16 into the special mention category.

Manitowoc, which has gained a tie for the Fox River Valley Conference lead, was named to the Big 16 for the first time—in 11th position.

Braves Raise Ticket Prices Due to Tax

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves announced Wednesday night new ticket prices effective Thursday, when Wisconsin's 3 per cent sales tax goes into effect.

The prices, President John McHale said, do not reflect the full tax and children's, ladies' day and bleacher tickets will be unchanged.

McHale said the following schedule will prevail, with old prices in brackets.

Mezzanine $4.10 ($4.00) box seats $3.10 ($3.00) lower grandstand reserved $2.30 ($2.25), upper grandstand $1.55 ($1.50).

For season tickets to all 75 home dates.

Mezzanine $247.20, boxes $185.40, lower grandstand $139.05, upper grandstand $97.85. Plan B season tickets covering 45 games, will be upper deck boxes $123.60 and upper grandstand $61.80. Children's tickets are 50 cents, bleacher seats 75. Ladies day tickets are 50 cents.

New Mile Whiz Tunes Up for 880 Assault

AUCKLAND New Zealand (AP) — Forty-haired Peter Snell of New Zealand, fresh from his world mile record-shattering performance of last Saturday, tuned two Americans Wednesday in a half-mile race.

The race was a tuneup for Snell's assault Saturday on the 880-yard record.

Baseball Begins Studying Its Many Problems

degree of cooperation between majors and minors on all levels. In fact, it is quite possible that the majors and minors eventually will be supervised in the same central office. At present the commissioner's office is in New York, the National League in Cincinnati, the American League in Boston and the minor league headquarters in Columbus, Ohio. There is considerable duplication of effort.

Realignment is a vague phrase that could mean anything. Just what does the word mean specifically in terms of baseball?

The most recent example was the meeting in Charlotte, N.C. that resulted in the decision of the old Southern Association, a bulwark for 61 years, to suspend operations. Two of its four remaining cities, Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn., planned to join the South Atlantic League for one season only. The Southern Association was class double A, the South Atlantic class A.

Talks Hopefully

George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, presided over the meeting. He talked hopefully of reviving the Southern next year.

The deaths of the Southern and the Three-Eye League earlier were just part of a great upheaval in the structure of the minors. The old neighborhood rivalry among the small cities that once dotted the minor league map in class C and class D has been replaced by the small fry leagues for youngsters between 10 and 20. Mom and pop have transferred their rooting interest to "junior" and "the kid next door." They find enough professional baseball on radio and TV to meet their needs.

The majors are studying a revolutionary change in the structure of the minors, based upon their own needs for the development of players, rather than upon the possibility of making money or breaking even at the lower level. Eventually only the larger cities, grouped geographically to save travel costs, will have professional baseball.

The program now is in a state of flux. Baseball men think there will be 24 big league clubs in another 10 years, divided into two 12-club leagues or three 8-club leagues. Perhaps 150 or 175 minor league clubs will be needed to train the talent.

"We have a different problem than football," said one high baseball executive. "The college football player often can step right into the big league in pro football. It is the exception in baseball. Usually, the players need three or four years in the minors. Football has no minor league problem. We do."

Three Levels

There is talk of seven minor league clubs for each big league team. One at the top level, two at the intermediate level and four at the lowest level. The top level (class AAA) would involve a combination of the various triple A and double A leagues now in operation. The intermediate level (class AA) would be a combination of class A and class B. The lowest level (class A) would include class C and class D. Naturally, there would be more leagues at the lowest level and only a few, possibly three, at the top.

The big league clubs working with the minor league franchise would guarantee enough money to carry the load. The local franchise owner would be guaranteed against loss and given the incentive of profits, depending on his initiative.

Other minor leagues could be organized and operated, but they would have no guarantees of big league support.

Before the realignment and reclassification can be carried out, the majors must decide (1) how many minors they need, (2) how many classes of minors they need, (3) how to guarantee financial operation but still leave an incentive for the local operator.

While the owners mull over these problems, you can expect more shuffling in the minors, more mergers, more backing and filling, more indecision.

To an outsider, it is comforting to know that somebody is thinking seriously about these problems. It is nice to know that baseball no longer has its head buried in the sand, hoping that "something will turn up."

USLTA Prexy Comes Out for Open Tournaments

Pladges Resources of Organization to Winning Davis Cup

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The new president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association came out strongly Saturday for open tournaments and pladged the association's resources to a campaign to recapture the Davis Cup.

"I intend to see that the United States wins the Davis Cup back — and soon," Edward A. Turville of St. Petersburg, Fla., said at the annual meeting of the association in his inaugural address. Turville succeeds George Barnes of Chicago.

Turville urged that the 1962 Davis Cup squad be assembled as soon as possible and that the team meet in Philadelphia for a week's training before heading for the Wimbledon Championships in early July.

"It is imperative that our junior players, as much as possible, train and play with our Davis Cup team and that a complete year-around program be developed to insure continued supervision of our Junior Davis Cup squad," the USLTA executive added.

Finest Coaching Talent

He said he would announce the Davis Cup captain in the near future and he added: "It is my intention to provide this captain with the finest coaching talent that can be obtained."

David Freed of Salt Lake City, Utah, served as captain the last two years in which the American team failed to reach the challenge round. Turville said no one could have done a better job "with the material available."

Turville declared that "we owe it to ourselves to hold at least one open tournament on an experimental basis only. I do not see how we can decide whether an open tournament is good or bad for tennis until one has been held," he added.

He said, however, that further discussion of the subject was of no value until approval is given by the International Lawn Tennis Federation. This matter still is under ILTF study.

First-Division Clubs Of Little 9 Meet Second-Division Foes

Winnipeg, Minn. (AP)—The East, which hasn't had a major college scoring champion in basketball in 11 years, is tossing the big challenge this season to Billy (The Hill) McGill of Utah.

Statistics from the NCAA service bureau today show McGill still leading the national pack with a 37.1 average on 630 points in 17 games. They also show that sophomore Nick Werkman of Seton Hall and senior Jack (The Shot) Foley of Holy Cross are the Utah star's only serious challengers.

Werkman scored 82 points in his last two games and boosted his season average to an even 33. Foley hit for 77 points in two starts and lifted his average to 31.4. Next in line is Jimmy Rayl of Indiana, who is scoring at a 28.6 clip.

Other individual leaders in the major school rankings are Ohio State's two-time All-American, Jerry Lucas, in field goal accuracy with slightly over 64 per cent; Tommy Boyer of Arkansas in free throw marksmanship with 94.8 per cent; and Paul Silas of Creighton in rebounding, with 228 per cent of all recoveries.

In team categories, Chicago Loyola leads in offense with 89.53 points per game to 89.52 for Arizona State U.; Ohio State in field goal percentage with .502 to .500 for North Carolina; San Jose State in team defense with 43.3; Holy Cross in free throw percentage with .791; and DePaul in rebounding with 61.8 per cent.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The 29th annual Southeastern Conference meeting gets under way behind closed doors today with a call for an unofficial boycott of pro football teams high on the agenda.

Jimmy Rayl Scoring at Record Clip

Lucas Is Hitting 69.1 Per Cent Of Floor Shots

CHICAGO (AP) — A record season pace in various scoring categories is being set in Big Ten basketball by Indiana's Jimmy Rayl and Ohio State's Jerry Lucas.

Rayl, the spindly junior who found his potential this season, is averaging 35.0 points a game after orbiting for a record breaking 56 points against Minnesota last week.

The 35-point average surpasses the season record of 32.5 set by Ohio State's Robin Freeman in 1956. Rayl also has hit an average of 11.75 field goals and 11.5 free throws per game.

Lucas, fifth in the current scoring race with 22.8 points per game, has hit a remarkable 69.1 per cent of his floor shots. He holds the percentage record of .656 set in 1960. Lucas also is averaging 19.4 rebounds. The season record average is 18 by MSU's Horace Walker in 1960.

Close Battle Locked in a Close Battle Behind Rayl in the Scoring Averages

Purdue's Terry Dischinger, the defending champion, with 28.0 and Iowa's Don Nelson with 28.0.

Ohio State is headed for several team records. Its .507 field goal shooting rate tops the Buckeyes' own season record average of .497 in 1960. And its .752 free throw percentage paces the record of .744 set by Illinois in 1956.

Illinois' scoring average record of 91.2 in 1956 may be safe. OSU heads the current averages with 89.8 with Indiana at 88.3 and Wisconsin 87.0.

The Buckeyes also are the best defensive team with an average yield of 68.0, and have the best rebounding average with 47.4 to Wisconsin's 46.5.

Two Benefit Cage Tilts Set For Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — Two benefit basketball games are being planned here within the next few weeks, one sponsored by the Kaukauna Athletic Club and the second by the Kaukauna Lions Club.

Athletic Club cagers will meet the Texas Cow Girls team at 8 p.m. Feb. 13 in the high school gym. The proceeds will be used to further sports activities in the city.

Russell Returns, Helps Celtics Defeat Chicago

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics, sparked by the return of Bill Russell, bounced back from a four-game National Basketball Association losing string Wednesday night and dropped the Chicago Packers 122-115.

The Celtics' four losses—equaling their longest losing streak since 1957—occurred while Russell was recuperating from an injured Achilles tendon.

Frank Budd in Dilemma Over Picking Football or Olympics

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP)—Frank Budd specializes in records — both on the track and on his phonograph.

He goes for progressive jazz in music and goes for broke when he is title sprinting.

One title that's never vacant is that of the "world's fastest human," and Budd is the current owner. The Villanova University speed demon from Asbury Park, N.J., is the only man ever to run the 100-yard dash in 9.2 seconds — officially. He did it last July in New York.

UW's Siebel Has Developed Into 'Take-Charge' Player

MADISON (AP) — Junior Ken Siebel has developed into Wisconsin's "take charge" player — although he often appears to be leading on the basketball court.

Siebel reaches his peak in the clutch of key games. He admits he has trouble getting "worked up" for games against weaker non-conference opponents.

"I find myself 'watching' a awful lot in a non-conference game," the 6-4 forward from Rock Falls, Ill., said Wednesday. "It's harder to get worked up for teams like North Dakota and Pacific than Illinois or Purdue."

Siebel acknowledged that he felt "more like playing hard against Illinois" last Monday night. His efforts resulted in a 23-point performance, pacing the Badgers to an 80-61 victory.

The record point up the fact that Siebel is at his best in Big Ten competition. In Wisconsin's four straight conference victories, he has scored 17, 18, 19 and 23 points. In 10 non-conference games, he has averaged only 11 points.

As a sophomore last season, Siebel averaged 14.1 points in 14 Big Ten games. In comparison, he scored only 8.5 points in 10 non-conference outings. He was voted the Badgers' most valuable player by his teammates.

Siebel's ability was recognized early by Wisconsin coach John Erickson. Two years ago Frank Parks was drawing rave notices. Siebel, however, had trouble adjusting from the outset and finally flunked out.

Kentucky Racks Up 15th Straight Win

Duquesne Avenges Defeat At Hands of Villanova

BY SHELDON SAKOWITZ

Duquesne, snubbed by the past season tournaments last year, has emerged as the powerhouse of Eastern college basketball this season. The Iron Dukes, ranked seventh in The Associated Press poll, have put together some impressive credentials this time to alert the selection committees.

The Dukes from Pittsburgh throttled Villanova 53-31 at the Pitt field house Wednesday night to enhance their national stature. The victory was Duquesne's 15th as against two setbacks and avenged a previous loss at the hands of Villanova, which is 15-3.

Majors Win Again in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Chicago Majors should play all their American Basketball League games in Milwaukee. They're undefeated in their "home-away-from-home."

The Majors moved to within a few percentage points of first place Pittsburgh in the ABL's Eastern Division by rallying for a 108-99 victory Wednesday night before another slim crowd at the Arena.

Bleier's Clinches Volleyball Title

With two weeks of play remaining, Bleier's (37-2) has wrapped up the Appleton Recreation Department Men's Volleyball League championship.

Bleier's clinched the title by taking two of three matches from the second-place Power Company Blue (27-12). In other action, Sirdahl's (27-12) won three games from Power Company Gray (3-36) and Police Department (15-24) swept three games from AAL (8-31).

Tigers Score Fourth Straight Win in YMCA Cage League

The Tigers won their fourth straight victory of the second round, defeating the Lions (1-3), 30-20, in the Appleton YMCA Grade School Basketball League.

The Badgers (2-2) defeated the Wolves (2-2), 33-32, and the Bears (3-1) trounced the Beavers (0-4), 49-16.

George Mills led the Tigers with 18 points and Rick Hoel paced the Lions with 12 markers. Bill Graves had 14 points for the Badgers.

Steve Kagen had the highest output in the league with 21 points for the Bears. Ben Adams led the Beavers with 6.

Technical Training May Be Overdone

Educators Debating Whether Tendency Is Limiting Students

NEW YORK (AP)—You are in college or planning to enter one and your life's ambition is to become a business executive.

Should you specialize in courses narrowed to the field of your choice? Or should you seek a rounded education, but with due attention to economics and business administration, and get the specific training on the job?

Business administration schools like universities in general, are adding more special courses for technical training.

Too Much?

But some educators think the trend may be overdone. They hold this training and the absence of the wider view could confine you to that field. It could prevent you from developing characteristics top management seeks when tapping juniors for advancement to executive posts.

One such dissenter is Howard T. Lewis, professor in the Graduate School of Business Administration at Harvard University. And he takes on not only the college curriculum itself but also the trend of companies endowing as training for their particular fields.

"Too many colleges and universities," he charges, "seem willing to give courses on anything from 'laundry management' to 'pie making' provided only someone

Police Scandal Rocks Small New England Yankee Community

BY ARTHUR BENTLEY
BURLINGTON, VT. (AP) — Nothing like it ever happened in this picturesque city on Lake Champlain where the people, like most Vermonters, boast of Yankee integrity and honesty.

Burlington's citizens had read about police scandals in Chicago and Denver. But most regarded them with casual detachment. Police scandals seemed especially remote early one Thursday morning, four days before Christmas, when two patrolmen emerged from the dingy interior of a downtown restaurant and walked toward a police telephone box to make their periodic check with headquarters.

His Own Problem

Six fellow officers in civilian clothes who had been waiting in the darkness outside, converged on the young policemen. They were searched, handcuffed and placed under arrest. Burlington, like Chicago and Denver, now had its own "police problem."

John R. Adams, 36, and John J. Malloy, 29, who between them had served 13 years on the force, pleaded guilty to burglary and each drew a 4 to 6-year state prison term.

Detectives found the pair with $300 but both signed statements implicating themselves in nine other breaks into city businesses, all committed while they patrolled the night shift in uniform.

St. Norbert Night Program Includes Russian Course

St. Norbert College will offer an evening course in the Russian language, beginning this week.

Robert Warpiński, a language and social studies teacher at Preble High School, will teach the semester course. He studied at the Russian Language Institute at Northwestern University last summer.

The Russian course will be an introduction to basic grammar and will prepare students for speaking reading and writing the language.

Warpiński also will give a 10-week lecture series at the college beginning Feb. 13 on "The Character of the Russian Mind." He will discuss the forces that have influenced the Russian mind and have helped form the attitudes of the Russian people today.

Lectures will be given in the Abbot Pennington Hall of Fine Arts at 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays from Feb. 13 through April 17.

Other evening courses include "Scientific Relaxation" taught by athletic department director Mel Nicks, and courses in art, mathematics, English, humanities and mechanics.

More than $1,000 allegedly was stolen during a two-month period.

The arrests climaxed two weeks of around-the-clock scrutiny during which the movements of the young patrolmen were charted by fellow police using specially rigged radios not on the police broadcasting frequency.

Wanted Thrills

For Malloy, married and the father of a child, the burglaries were committed for thrills. "I didn't need the money," he said after his arrest. "When they caught us I was relieved."

For Adams, divorced father of four, money was a pressing problem. "I'm in debt all right," he told reporters. "You can put down that the low pay a policeman gets had something to do with this."

Acting Chief George McKenzie, who took charge of the 50-man force, said after the arrests "I'm absolutely certain that no other members of the force are involved."

But just one week after the sentencing it happened again.

"Three more city policemen charged with theft on duty," the five-column headlines blared. "Second big scandal within month here."

This newly-accused trio, relative newcomers to the department, had taken no money. The thefts allegedly committed over an 18-month period involved household supplies — baby food, cans of coffee, luggage, clothing and a baby's bathnet.

"Almost Destitute"

The three, described by McKenzie as "almost destitute," took home a weekly paycheck of around $60 — about average for a Burlington wage earner.

All three went on trial this week. Two other patrolmen drew 14-day suspensions for breach of departmental regulations which authorities said were not directly linked to the burglaries.

Within less than a month almost 15 per cent of the city's police force had been arrested, convicted or suspended.

Burlington citizens point to the fact that the scandals within their department were unearthed by police officials themselves with McKenzie initiating the investigations.

Whatever the outcome, the ugly stain of a "big town" scandal will linger for some time in this lakeport community which William Dean Howells once called "the most beautiful city in the world."
